COLOSSIANS 3:13-15A

Bear with each other and forgive one another if any of you has a grievance against someone. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love, which binds them all together in perfect unity. Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts.

Have Paddle, Will Travel – The Perpetual Search for New Waters (Part 2 of 2)

If you're a Pittsburgh Pens fan, you've probably heard former players Bob Errey and Phil Bourque repeatedly say during broadcasts, "You've got to keep your head on a swivel!" They're referring to the fact that ice hockey players have to remain vigilant, since opposing players may attempt to violently "finish their check" at any moment. "You've got to keep your head on a swivel" is also a good way of putting how you have to be constantly aware of what's going on all around you whenever you're paddling a kayak or canoe. You never know what you may see on the water, in the water, under the water, up on shore, or up in the air. There is so much going on all around you when it comes to birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians, insects, plants, rocks, the weather, and the water; if you're not constantly looking around, you just may miss something!

Many folks are not aware of the fact that here in PA, there are currently fewer breeding pairs of ospreys (often referred to as "fish hawks") than there are bald eagles. Both birds of prey species were devastated by the impact of the insecticide DDT, which accumulated in the fish they ate and caused their eggshells to catastrophically thin. Wisely, the use of DDT was banned in 1972 and in the subsequent 47-years, both bald eagles and ospreys have made remarkable comebacks through deliberate human intervention, including protection, habitat improvement, and wildlife management initiatives. With fewer than 250 nesting pairs of ospreys across the entire Commonwealth of PA, we're truly blessed to have over a half-a-dozen pairs of ospreys nesting at nearby Shenango River Reservoir and why it was a big deal to paddle within close proximity of two occupied osprey nesting platforms out in the water (we always kept a 50-yard buffer), when my son and I paddled between Clark and Big Bend, back on Friday, July 5, 2019.

The first osprey nesting platform was just offshore from where we launched. After weaving through patches of aquatic vegetation and around several small islands in shallow water where few larger pleasure craft can go (we're talking water depths less than 18-inches) for almost a mile, we passed the second osprey platform. That morning during our 5.5 mile flat-water paddling excursion on Shenango Reservoir that lasted just under 2 hours (I have an App that tracks distance, time, and maps the route paddled), we saw a total of 5 ospreys, 3 bald eagles, over a dozen great blue herons, a few cormorants, various waterfowl, and a variety of songbirds.

The highlight of our trip was watching an osprey take off from the second platform and "intercept" a bald eagle that it apparently felt was too close to its airspace. To guard its young, the osprey flew directly towards the bald eagle and got within 10-feet before the eagle diverted its course. On the way back to our starting point, as I focused my attention on an osprey sitting on the first platform, I missed seeing another osprey dive down and take a fish 200-yards off to our left. My son caught that exciting sequence and let me know about it afterwards. Proving that even "with your head on a swivel", you're never going to see it all; but it sure is fun trying, especially when you are on new waters and you're taking in all the sights for the first time!

Just like sports teams have their home field or home ice, I consider the Shenango River from the Ohio St. bridge (by Yourga Trucking) downstream to the Harbor boat launch my "home waters". I'm on that 18-mile stretch of river on a regular basis and you just never know what you might see when you come around the next river bend. Past highlights have included bald eagles, ospreys, an otter, and a black bear. Back on June 26, I had the river all to myself and was blessed to have a very nice buck in velvet swim across the river, right in front of me. I was within 25-yards when he exited on the west bank and just stood there amongst the weeds as I floated past, a mere 7-yards away. I never grow tired of close-up wildlife encounters like that and if you have the opportunity to get out on the water, you will too! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2019

by JoAnn Derson

• To dust baseboards and to help them resist dust in the future, try cleaning them with a dryer sheet. The residue left behind will repel dust better than if you were to use simply a damp cloth. ©King Features

Natural Help for Optimum Health

Good Health should be our most important asset.
Why not take charge of your health today.

Most people on my whole health program see all their numbers go down: sugar, cholesterol, blood pressure, and weight. The only thing that increases is your energy, quality of sleep, and general overall health improves.

Our Daily Bread

Unexpected Grief
Today's Scripture: 2 Corinthians 1:3-11
Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort. 2 Corinthians 1:3

Since 1988, I've enjoyed writing several Our Daily Bread articles each month. I've felt blessed to dig into Scripture, observe life, and provide spiritual help in this publication.

But on June 6, 2002, I found myself unable to offer help. On the last day of her junior year of high school, our 17-year-old daughter Melissa was killed in a car accident.

In one horrible instant, everything we knew about God and the Bible and heaven was put to the test. We needed the Christian community to guide us toward hope as we stood at the funeral of a beloved young woman who had touched so many lives with her smile, her godliness, her love of life, and her care for others.

For many weeks, I couldn't write. What could I say? How could I find words to help others when my family—when I—needed so much?

Now, months later as I begin to write again, I can say that God has not changed. He is still our loving heavenly Father, the "God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3). He is still the source of hope in the face of unexpected grief. I write of Him with a renewed sense of my need for His touch, His love, His strength. Broken, I write of the only One who can make us whole. By Dave Branon

I have been through the valley of weeping,
The valley of sorrow and pain;
But the God of all comfort was with me,
At hand to uphold and sustain. Anon.
When God permits trials, He also provides comfort.

Recipe Corner

Connie's Zucchini "Crab" Cakes

(Tastes like crab cakes but without the crab)

2 1/2 cups grated zucchini

1 egg, beaten

2 tablespoons butter, melted

1 cup bread crumbs

1/4 cup minced onion

1 teaspoon Old Bay Seasoning™

1/4 cup all-purpose flour

1/2 cup vegetable oil for frying

• In a large bowl, combine zucchini, egg, and butter or margarine. Stir in seasoned crumbs, minced onion, and seasoning. Mix well. Shape mixture into patties. Dredge in flour. In a medium skillet, heat oil over medium high heat until hot. Fry patties in oil until golden brown on both sides.

Italian Sausage and Zucchini

1 1/2 pounds Italian sausage links

2 small zucchini, sliced

1 small yellow squash, sliced

1/2 cup chopped onion

1 (14.5 ounce) can stewed tomatoes, with liquid

Prepared pasta or rice

• In a large skillet over medium heat, brown the Italian sausage until the inside is no longer pink. Cut sausage into 1/4" slices, and continue cooking until browned. Stir in the zucchini, yellow squash, and onion; cook and stir for 2 minutes. Pour in the tomatoes, with liquid. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer for 10 to 15 minutes. Serve over pasta or rice.

Holy Bible - Paul's letter to the Colossians. Chapter 3

Verses 1-4: If then you were raised with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ is, sitting at the right hand of God. Set your mind on things above, not on things on the earth. For you died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ who is our life appears, then you also will appear with Him in glory.

Verses 8-17: But now you yourselves are to put off all these: anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy language out of your mouth. Do not lie to one another, since you have put off the old man with his deeds, and have put on the new man who is renewed in knowledge according to the image of Him who created him, where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcised nor uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave nor free, but Christ is all and in all.

Therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, put on tender mercies, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as Christ forgave you, so you also must do. But above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfection. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body; and be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. And whatever you do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him. NKJV

Strange But True

by Samantha Weaver

- Those who study such things say that people during the Stone Age used shells and even shark teeth to shave.
- Researchers conducting a study at the University of California have found that men are more likely than women to use shortcuts.
- For reasons that are still not clear, in the 15th century in Florence, Italy, women were banned from wearing buttons.
- You are almost certainly aware of the fact that the Impressionist painter Claude Monet is famous for his paintings of water lilies. However, you may not be aware of the fact that he painted more than 300 pictures of water lilies. The same water lilies, in fact – and they can be seen today in a pond behind his house.
- Thought for the Day: "You wouldn't worry so much about what others think of you if you realized how seldom they do." – Eleanor Roosevelt

Paws Corner

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER:
I want to go camping with my dog "Tinney."
I've never been camping before, and I overheard someone at a party saying that dogs weren't allowed at campgrounds.
Is this true? How can I bring Tinney along with me? - James in Providence, Rhode Island

DEAR JAMES: While some campgrounds expressly do not allow pets, others are fine with them - as long as you follow their rules. Most campgrounds require dogs to be kept on a leash at all times, and that you always pick up your pet's poop.
Here are a few tips to make your first camping trip with Tinney a fun time:

- Check with campgrounds in the area to make sure they allow pets. If a state or federal campground prohibits them, a private campground may be a good option.

- Bring everything you need for Tinney: A food and water bowl, sleeping pad, leash, medications, his pet food and a doggy sweater in case it gets cold.

- Purchase a tent that will fit both you and Tinney: a 3-person tent should be roomy enough.

- Make sure Tinney is safe in your car as you travel to the campsite, either in a travel kennel or in a pet restraint.
If you drive a pickup truck, do not tie him on a leash within the truck bed, ever.
- Keep Tinney near you at all times. Remember, you're responsible for him, even if you're camping with a group.
- Check Tinney's fur and paws daily for ticks, fleas, thorns or other debris.

- Make sure he gets plenty of water throughout the day and take the time to rest and play with Tinney so he enjoys the experience!
