• "My daughter is a softball player, and here's what her coach suggested as an ice pack for when she gets home: unpopped popcorn kernels. They get cold but not uncomfortably so, they can easily mold to any body part and they don't melt into a mess. If you needed to, you can empty them out into a pan and stick your hand or foot into it. Be sure to label them so you don't try to pop them later!" – L.D. in GA © King Features

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• Bring a binder clip and a zip-top plastic bag with you on a flight, and you can put your phone in the bag and clip it up on the seat in front of you for easy viewing. A gallon-size bag, two binder clips and a small bungee work for a tablet.
 • "Use the clips on a pants hanger to keep curtains closed in a hotel room. This has saved me from getting woken up too early because my room is facing the morning sun." – Y.L. in New Mexico © King Features

Hunting Seasons are Here!

I find it fascinating how God has "wired" us all differently, when it comes to our likes and dislikes. While some find it peculiar, I absolutely love getting up early to watch the sunrise out in the woods. This past Sat., on the first day of archery season, I parked my truck up in Venango County well before 6 AM, marveling at all the stars in the clear night sky as I walked in by the red light of my headlamp. As I crawled up into my tree stand, I was greeted by the orange glow of early morning nautical twilight (EMNT) on the eastern horizon, which at our north latitude is roughly one hour before sunrise or approximately 30-minutes before legal shooting light. I quietly layered up with clothing (it was only 38-degrees!) and got my gear situated as visibility slowly, but steadily, increased. I said a quick prayer thanking God for another beautiful sunrise and the privilege of being out amongst the grandeur of His magnificent creation, one more time.

In addition to being passionate about watching the sunrise, I also love to see new things, which happens almost every time I head outdoors. This past Sat. was no exception. As I sat motionless in my tree stand, I watched several squirrels foraging on the new fallen acorn crop. Around 9:30 AM, one particular fox squirrel attracted not only my attention, but also that of a red-tailed hawk, which landed in a solitary oak the foresters had left standing as a seed tree out in the clear cut I was perched overlooking. The squirrel also detected the hawk's arrival and quickly disappeared under the mass of tree toppings, ferns, and blackberries covering the clear cut. Surprisingly, the squirrel had headed off in the hawk's direction, which was 38-yards away according to my range finder's earlier reading to the solitary oak. I kind of forgot about the squirrel, until a few minutes later, I saw it start to ascend the very oak tree where the hawk was perched. Maybe a hawk had previously gotten one of this squirrel's friends or family members, but whatever the reason, the squirrel climbed within 15-feet of the unwelcome predator and proceeded to "chew out" the hawk in barking squirrel language for 10-minutes. Finally, the hawk made a close-quarters lunge for the squirrel, which was thwarted by the squirrel's deft reaction. The victorious squirrel let the entire forest know about his/her triumph for several minutes, while the unsuccessful red-tailed hawk flew off to another perch 150-yards away. I was able to capture a photo of this predator vs. prey confrontation and always treasure seeing interesting and unique occurrences out in nature.

Squirrels are just one of many small game species becoming legal quarry sometime in October:

Junior Squirrel & Rabbit Hunt (Oct. 5-19) – The season is currently open for Junior License holders and Mentored Youth. Hunting these two species are great for novice hunters, since they require the same skills and patience as deer and turkeys, but offer more opportunities for shots.

Junior Pheasant Hunt (Oct. 12-19) – This Saturday is the opener for this restricted season open only to Junior Hunters and Mentored Youth (who have successfully completed a Hunter-Trapper Education Course). Please check the PGC website for locations specifically stocked for this hunt.

Statewide Small Game (Oct. 19 – Nov. 29) – This is when Adult and Senior Hunters have their chance to pursue squirrels, rabbits, grouse, and quail. Not as popular as it once was, there are still plenty of opportunities to harvest small game, if hunters are willing to invest the time and effort.

Statewide Pheasant (Oct. 26 – Nov 29) – All Adult Hunters and some Senior Hunters are required to purchase a pheasant permit for $26.90. In WMUs 4E and 5A, hunters may only harvest cock pheasants. Cocks and hens are legal quarry in all other WMUs, including here in WMU 1A. Please check the PGC website for their upcoming pheasant stocking schedule.

It's getting to be that time of year when it can be difficult to choose which species to pursue whenever you head afield! Next week, we'll explore opportunities for waterfowl, migratory birds, and turkeys. It can be tough to decide.

Recipe Corner

ORANGE DRIZZLED GRAPE TARTLETS

16-1/2 oz. tube refrigerated sugar cookie dough
8 oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 C. confectioners sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract
3/4 C. red grapes, halved
3/4 C. green grapes, halved
1/4 C. orange marmalade
• Cut cookie dough into 12 slices, about 3/4" thick.
On ungreased cookie sheets pat each slice to form
1/2" thick circles. Bake at 350° for 10-12 minutes or until golden brown. Remove to wire racks to cool completely. Meanwhile, in a small bowl, beat the cream cheese, confectioners sugar and vanilla until blended. Spread over cookie crusts. Top with grapes. In a microwave-safe dish, microwave marmalade, covered, on high for 15-20 seconds or until warmed. Drizzle over grapes. Yield: 1 dozen.

Weird and Interesting Medical Facts with Ben, a WBB Employee

Does your nose run while you poop? It's an odd question, I know, but it's not all that out of the ordinary. Apparently, it's just your body's way of expelling toxins. Doctor Oz described this as a parasympathetic release and said not only is it normal, it's one of the necessary functions for cleansing out junk. There are only so many ways the body can eliminate toxins and that seems to be one of them. Interesting, isn't it?

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• "If you have to put a lid over something that is likely to stick to it, try giving the inside of the lid a very light coating of vegetable oil. I do this when I am transporting dip to a potluck. Vegetable oil has no flavor, really, and it's just enough to let the lid come off without taking the top layer with it." - J.A. in FL © King Features
