Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• Make your own whipped butter for dinner rolls. Simply let butter come to room temperature, then whip in your electric mixer until it's nice and fluffy. Chill, or drop by teaspoonful onto a cold cookie sheet lined with parchment paper. Freeze, and then you can arrange them on a plate for a nice presentation. They thaw quickly.

Strange But True

by Samantha Weaver

- It was Nobel Prize-winning French poet, journalist and novelist Anatole France who gave the following sage advice: "Never lend books – nobody ever returns them; the only books I have in my library are those which people have lent me."
- One-quarter of the city of Los Angeles is taken up by automobiles.
- The deluge of mail around the holidays has been an issue longer than you probably realize. In 1822, the postmaster of Washington, D.C., was disgruntled by the surge and complained about having to hire 16 extra mail carriers. He wanted a law to be passed limiting the number of cards a person could send.
- Have trouble remembering all the words to our national anthem? Be glad you're not Greek – their national anthem has 158 verses.
- In many parts of Spain, Dec. 28 is traditionally observed as the Feast of the Holy Innocents. To celebrate, the young boys of a town gather together and light bonfires. One of them is designated as the mayor for the evening, and he goes about ordering citizens to do tasks such as sweeping the streets. Anyone who refuses is fined.
- If all the blood vessels in one human body were stretched out end to end, they would stretch all the way around the world. © King Features

Natural Help for Optimum Health

Good Health should be our most important asset.
Why not take charge of your health today.

Most people on my whole health program see all their numbers go down: sugar, cholesterol, blood pressure, and weight. The only thing that increases is your energy, quality of sleep, and general overall health improves.

Moments In Time

The History Channel

• On Jan. 19, 1977, President Gerald Ford pardons "Tokyo Rose," a Japanese-American woman named Iva Toguri. Toguri and other women had broadcast sentimental American music and phony announcements in a vain attempt to destroy the morale of Allied soldiers during World War II.

• On Jan. 20, 1841, China cedes the island of Hong Kong to the British. In 1898, Britain was granted an additional 99 years of rule. In September 1984, the British and the Chinese signed a formal agreement approving a 1997 turnover of the island.

• On Jan. 21, 1976, from London's Heathrow Airport and Orly Airport outside Paris, the first Concorde with commercial passengers simultaneously take flight to Bahrain in the Persian Gulf and Rio de Janeiro, respectively. The Concorde flew well past the sound barrier at 1,350 mph.

• On Jan. 23, 1957, the Wham-O toy company rolls out the first batch of aerodynamic plastic discs, now known as Frisbees. The story of the Frisbee began in Bridgeport, Conn., where students from nearby universities would throw empty Frisbie Pie Company tins to each other, yelling "Frisbie!" as they let go.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

The Wisdom of Age

Read: Exodus 18:13-27

Listen now to my voice; I will give you counsel.
Exodus 18:19

No matter how long you've been at this thing called life, it's wise to turn to older people for advice. I know I feel more comfortable about making big decisions if I first talk to my dad and my father-in-law about them. When they confirm my fears or affirm my decisions about something, I feel I'm on solid ground.

Moses was no spring chicken when he got some much-needed advice from his father-in-law Jethro. He observed that Moses was about to suffer burnout if he continued to try to do all the work of judging for the children of Israel by himself. So he told Moses, "The work is too heavy for you; you cannot handle it alone" (Ex. 18:18). Moses could easily have said, "Look, Dad, I'm in charge here. I know what I'm doing. After all, I've been around for a while, and I've gained a little wisdom too." Instead, he listened carefully and divided the work just as Jethro suggested. As a result, things went more smoothly, and the work got done more efficiently.

In God's design of things, He has provided for each of us a powerful, wise resource in the older people in our lives. Let's never neglect their insight and good advice. We can learn from the wisdom of age.

The older saints who trust God's Word
Have fought the battles you now fight;
They've trod the paths that you now walk—
Their wisdom teaches truth and right. —JDB
To avoid the mistakes of youth, draw from the wisdom of age.

Life, Love, Kindness, Understanding

It's not a stretch to say that the world has begun to revolve around negativity. Look up just about anything and I'm sure you will find a video or a blog posted by someone who seems to have nothing better to do than to complain on the subject. It's not just social media, a lot of popular News outlets have decided to beat down their viewers with nothing but horrible stories about terrible things. Have you noticed that we will give participation prizes to everyone who tried but we, as a society, can't seem to stop complaining about everything that we don't like or agree with?

I'm here to ask why. We need to come together with a new sence of community. We need to be accepting of other views that differ from our own. Just because someone doesn't agree with your own opinion does not mean that you're right. Has it dawned upon you that maybe you're both correct and you just see things differently? Just because you don't agree does not mean you have to tear that person down.

My challenge to you, everyone who reads this: Show Kindness. Give someone the benefit of the doubt. Agree to disagree. Help someone who needs it. Don't post that negative opinion on social media. Try to be a better person and stop this cycle of negativity most of the world has fallen into. Give Love. You will never know what's going on in someone else's life unless you ask. That person you're arguing with may be going through a really rough time in their life and just need someone to be there for them. It could mean the difference between life and death. Give Life. We're all human and none of us make it through life without hardship. We all have our own scars. Be Understanding. We're just doing our best to survive and make our own way.

Paws Corner

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My two cats do not like my new puppy at all. Every time "Sparks" tries to approach one of them, they hiss and swipe at his nose. I'm afraid this is traumatic for him.

How can I get them to get along? – Devoted Pup Dad in Ohio
DEAR PUP DAD: This new family can get along, but it will take a bit of work and some careful arrangements. Sparks is very young and sounds friendly and sociable, traits that will work in his favor in winning over your cats. "Gradual" is the watchword here. Sparks needs to be introduced in controlled situations and taken away if the cats begin to hiss or arch their backs.

Early on you should:
– Always supervise their interactions: Your puppy should not be left alone in a room with the cats; you need to monitor all the pets' behavior and remove Sparks if the cats prepare to show aggression.

– Put up a baby gate: Keep Sparks out of rooms where the cats are, at least for now. The see-through gate also allows the cats to approach Sparks from a position where they feel more comfortable.
– Give the cats an out: The cats will be less aggressive if they don't feel that they're being cornered by an overly friendly puppy.

– Reduce antagonistic choke points in the house: Note areas where the cats and dog may cross paths and reduce the possibility that they will. Don't place the puppy's food bowl next to the cats' bowls. Make sure the cats don't have to walk past Sparks' bed or kennel to get to their beds.

Give it time, and your pets should eventually become tolerant of each other, if not completely friendly. ©King Features

Hugelkultur is a traditional European gardening practice whereby fallen branches, logs and other woody debris are put into a pit under a compost pile, and covered with a growing medium into which a garden is planted.

The buried wood acts like a sponge for moisture as it decays, and also provides nutrients for the soil, which are tapped into by the growing plants. The vertical building up of the pile maximizes space. This method dramatically reduces the need for irrigation.

Outdoor Opportunities By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

The Winds of Change Continue to Blow for PA Hunters in 2020 (Part 2 of 2)

Now, I'm going to assume we're all familiar with Marvel's Spider-Man popularized in comic books, cartoons, and superhero movies; and how his "Spidey senses would tingle" whenever something just didn't feel right. I'm guessing many readers found their own senses tingling after reading Part 1 in the previous edition of the Weekly Bargain Bulletin where I touched upon proposals the PA Game Commission's Bureau of Wildlife Management put forward for the Board of Commissioners for discussion and tentative approval at their upcoming Jan. 24-25 meeting. These include the controversial first-ever Sunday hunting in PA and permitting antlerless deer hunting for all 14-days of the PA regular firearms deer season across the entire state. Please don't get angry with me and "shoot the messenger", I'm just sharing the info released by the PGC. This week we'll look at other recommendations they'll be considering.

Unlike 2019, when we had our first-ever one-week bear muzzleloader season in Oct., followed by two weeks of bear archery, the recommendation for 2020 is to have bear muzzleloader and bear archery run concurrently for one week followed by one additional week of bear archery season. This shortens total bear hunting opportunities by one week, but there would still be three days of early bear firearms season in Oct. for junior and senior hunters, as well as active duty military. If approved, pheasant hunters will be able to harvest both female and male birds in all Wildlife Management Units for the first-time, except in two designated wild pheasant recovery areas. Out in Eastern PA, fall turkey hunting would be shortened from two weeks to one week in WMUs 4C and 4E; but for turkey hunters in most WMUs, there will be an additional three-day fall turkey season sandwiched around Thanksgiving from Wed., Nov. 23 - Fri., Nov. 25.

Since the PGC was established back in 1895, squirrels (gray, black, fox, and red) have been considered an under-pursued species. So, to encourage additional squirrel hunting, a proposal has been put forward to move the openers for both the youth season and the statewide season up by three weeks into September. There is also a recommendation to eliminate the extended elk hunting season entirely in 2020. This is based on the fact that there was never a single PA elk harvested during the 9 years the extended elk hunting season existed, which permitted elk hunters with an unfilled elk tag to hunt in designated "fringe areas" of the PA elk mgmt. area.

While the proposals for the upcoming 2020-21 seasons are a mixed bag for hunters, trappers stand to gain several new trapping opportunities. Based on a burgeoning beaver population here in Western PA, PGC biologists are recommending to increase the season limit on beavers from 40 to 60 in WMUs 1A and 1B. Additionally, trappers may have their first chance to harvest an otter in three NW PA WMUs (1A, 1B, & 2F) and expanded opportunities in two WMUs in NE PA (3C & 3D). Finally, there is a recommendation to open bobcat trapping and hunting in WMU 2B, which encompasses most of Allegheny County and portions of adjacent counties, since bobcats have been expanding their range into these highly populated suburban areas.

To encourage public participation in the entire process of formulating PA game seasons and regulations, the PGC will begin holding their regularly scheduled meetings on Fridays and Saturdays, instead of Monday and Tuesdays as it has always been in the past. These proposals from the Bureau of Wildlife Mgmt. will be discussed with the Commissioners on Jan. 24 and will be up for an initial vote on Jan. 25. Those tentatively approved will be open for public comment until the PGC's next board meeting in April 2020. If you feel strongly about any of these proposed changes, please take the time to submit your views in writing or consider heading out to Harrisburg to address the Board in person. Your voice needs to be heard in the midst of the windings of change that are coming our way! ©WBB 2019

Are You Covered?

In time of emergency, the last thing you should worry about is if your emergency ambulance transportation will be financially covered. Insurance carriers may cover only a portion of your emergency transportation.
