• Car Wash Tips: Use a soap that's made for vehicles, because it's less likely to strip the protective coating off your paint. Don't wash in full sun if possible. If you must, then work in small sections to keep soap from drying on the car. Rinse off your sponge regularly - the dirt and grime can scratch the surface. Use a microfiber cloth to dry.

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

Let's Look at Some Significant Changes for the 2020-21 Hunting Year (Part 3 of 3)

Since we've been focusing on significant changes for the past few weeks, let me ask you something.

What do you think is the biggest change PA hunters have undergone in the past 50-years? Now, there is no right or wrong answer, but if that was an essay question on an exam and I had to provide a response along with supporting information to defend my conclusion, I know how I would respond. Because it is so common today, many hunters under the age of 50 would not know his, but the biggest change in my opinion is the proliferation of archery hunting. Whether you realize it or not, fifty years ago, back in 1970, there were far fewer than 25,000 bowhunters across the entire Commonwealth when your equipment choices were primarily limited to long bows and recurve bows. The 1980's saw compound bows become widely available and the number of PA bowhunters rapidly increased. Today, well over 250,000 PA hunters purchase an archery license each year. A remarkable ten-fold increase over the past 50-years.

Now, you may be thinking, if there were fewer than 25,000 bowhunters 50-years ago and close to one million hunting licenses were sold each year back then, what were all those folks hunting in October and November before the firearms deer season opened on the Monday after Thanksgiving? The answer would be small game. There was a time when the pursuit of rabbits, squirrels, pheasants, and grouse was the passionate pursuit of the masses before a significant portion of hunters became overwhelmingly interested in compound bows and tree stands to relentlessly pursue deer. Unfortunately, along the way, many young hunters lost interest in hunting because their parents and grandparents were so busy archery deer hunting, they didn't make time to take their young hunters out for small game. While adults think nothing of sitting motionless for hours and patiently wait days for a single shot at a deer; young hunters would rather take a shot at something on an hourly basis and when they can't, often label hunting "boring" in their minds, and then seek other activities to fill their time. Unfortunately, many give up hunting permanently.

To help encourage small game hunting, the PA Game Commission has implemented a few significant changes for the 2020-21 hunting year. First, our statewide squirrel season now opens on September 12, a full three weeks before the statewide archery deer opener on October 3. Parents, grandparents, and other mentors will have time to take their youth hunters afield in pursuit of squirrels when the weather's comfortable and hunting seasons for other species aren't open. Second, hunters will now be able to legally harvest either-sex pheasants statewide, except in the four designated Wild Pheasant Recovery Areas. (All four WPRAs are over 100 miles from Lawrence County with the closest one down in Somerset County.)

In other significant hunting changes, Fall turkey season will be open for various lengths in 21 of 23 WMUs across the state. (Please check your 2020-21 PA Hunting & Trapping Digest for details.) Of special interest, Fall turkey will be open Wed. - Fri., Nov. 25-27, sandwiched around Thanksgiving in 12 WMUs. Unfortunately, that excludes our area, WMU 1A. Additionally, the extended elk season held outside the elk management area has been eliminated. These additional days were provided to elk hunters, who were drawn for a tag and failed to fill it during the general season. However, over the years of its existence, no one ever harvested an extended season elk, so it was formally abolished. Just a reminder, applications for the three upcoming PA elk seasons (archery, general, and late), which are awarded by lottery, are due today, July 31, 2020. While of interest to waterfowl hunters, the bag limit on scaup, an easily identifiable blue-billed diving duck, has changed and now varies from one (early) to two (late) during different parts of the upcoming waterfowl seasons. (Please check your Digest for details.)

Trappers in our area should be very pleased with some of the changes implemented for the 2020-21 trapping season. For the first time, river otter trapping season has been expanded to include WMUs 1A, 1B, and 2F. (Limit 1 per license year with permit.) Yes, there are otters in the Shenango River drainage. Also, the season limit on beavers has been increased from 40 to 60 in WMUs 1A and 1B, since they are a very prolific species and only a limited number of dedicated trappers are pursuing them. Additionally, bobcat hunting and trapping will be permitted for the first time, Dec. 19 - Jan. 10 in WMU 2B, permit required, limit one. Hard to believe, but bobcats can be found in Allegheny County and those suburban portions of surrounding counties. Also, don't forget the 1st round of unsold antlerless licenses become available on Mon., Aug. 3. It just keeps getting better! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2020

Donna's Day

Creative family fun

by Donna Erickson

Mexican Corn Family-Style

This summer, I've been thinking "Mexican street corn" (elotes), a lightly grilled and slightly charred corn on the cob typically slathered with mayo, rolled in crumbles of tasty cotija (pronounced ko-TEE-hah) cheese and chopped cilantro, then drizzled with fresh lime juice. A dusting of chili powder raises the heat, if you dare. The mix of flavors is dynamic and will be memorable at your next barbecue. Many street corn recipes call for mixing the add-ons before spreading onto the corn, but I prefer a buffet-style toppings bar to let each guest customize with his or her favorite textures and flavors. Rather than cooking the husked corn on the outdoor grill, which takes time, skill and space, I opt for boiling it in a big pot on my stove while the main course cooks on the grill. Just before we eat, I set the boiled corn on the empty hot grill until lightly charred on all sides.

MEXICAN CORN FAMILY-STYLE

1/4 cup mayonnaise
3/4 cup cotija cheese, crumbled (substitute with crumbled feta or Parmesan)
1/4 cup cilantro, chopped
1 jalapeno chili, seeded and finely chopped (optional)
Chili powder (optional)
2 limes, cut in wedges
6 ears of fresh sweet corn, shucked

1. Set up the toppings bar next to a stack of dinner plates. Place mayonnaise, cheese, cilantro and chopped chili in bowls. Arrange in a row on a serving table with a shaker of chili powder and plate of cut limes at the end. Set a brush by the mayo.
2. Boil or steam corn until tender.
3. Remove corn from cooking pot, pat dry and set on hot grill. Rotate with tongs for a few minutes.
4. Arrange on a large platter and set by toppings. Invite family and guests to take a dinner plate and begin by brushing the corn with mayonnaise. Press cheese and cilantro into the mayo. Add chilies or sprinkle with chili powder if desired, then drizzle all over with squeezed lime juice. Serve hot. Serves 6

TIP: To remove the kernels from the cob: Secure the end of an ear of corn in the hole of an angel food cake pan.

Our Daily Bread Gratitude

Whatever you do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him. — Colossians 3:17
Today's Scripture: Colossians 3:12-17

Among the first words many of us were taught to say are please and thank you. No one gets quite as excited as a parent or grandparent when a toddler first utters those words and makes the connection between asking politely and receiving gratefully.

But I suspect that as we grow older we become more adept at saying please than thank you, especially with our heavenly Father. We focus more on pressing needs than on previous provisions; we petition more than we praise. And while God invites us to come to Him with all our needs, He also urges us to make gratitude a habit.

In Colossians 3:15, Paul instructed every follower of Jesus Christ to "let the peace of God rule in your hearts." Then three times he reminded us to remain grateful to God: "be thankful" (v.15); sing with gratitude to the Lord (v.16); "do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him" (v.17).

Dr. Michael Avery, president of God's Bible School in Cincinnati, Ohio, has said: "Very few things honor and glorify God more than the sweet fragrance of a thankful soul. It expels gloom and ushers in sweet peace and blessed hope. Gratitude encourages graciousness."

It's good to give thanks to God.

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

• The French name for cotton candy is "Barbe a papa," or "dad's beard."

• In the era of TV dinners, it wasn't enough that you ATE your veggies. No, etiquette experts still found time to make some interesting rules about HOW you consumed them as well. According to one guide, asparagus should be cut in half in order to avoid "the ungraceful appearance of a bent stalk ... falling limply into someone's mouth." ©2020 King Features

• A 7-year-old boy had long complained about his swollen and aching jaw, and small wonder: Surgeons at the Saveetha Dental College and Hospital in Chennai, India, found 526 teeth crammed inside his mouth! After removing a seven-ounce, "well-defined bag-like mass" from his jaw containing hundreds of miniature teeth, it took the team five hours to carefully search for and count all of them.

A Taste of Summer Recipe Corner

Sweet Corn Cake

By Lee Ann Clarke

1/2 cup Butter, with salt
1/3 cup Corn flour, masa, enriched
1/4 cup Water
1 1/2 cups sweet corn, kernels cut off cob
1/4 cup Yellow Cornmeal, whole-grain
1/3 cup Sugars, granulated
2 Tbsp. heavy whipping cream
1/4 tsp. Salt, table
1/2 tsp. double acting baking powder
• In a medium bowl beat butter until it is creamy. Add corn flour and water and beat until well mixed. Using a food processor, process corn, but leave chunky. Stir into the butter mixture. In a separate bowl, mix cornmeal, sugar, cream, salt, and baking powder. Add to corn flour mixture and stir to combine. Pour batter into an ungreased 8"x8" baking pan. Smooth batter and cover with aluminum foil. Place pan into a 9"x13" baking dish that is filled a third of the way with water. Bake in preheated 350° oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Allow to cool for 10 minutes. Use an ice cream scoop for easy removal from pan.

Blueberry Zucchini Bread

by: Laura Moody

3 eggs, lightly beaten
1 cup vegetable oil
3 teaspoons vanilla extract
2 1/4 cups white sugar
2 cups shredded zucchini
3 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
1 pint fresh blueberries
• Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly grease 4 mini-loaf pans. In a large bowl, beat together eggs, oil, vanilla, and sugar. Fold in zucchini. Beat in flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda, and cinnamon. Gently fold in blueberries. Transfer to prepared mini-loaf pans. Bake 50 minutes in preheated oven, or until a knife inserted in the center of a loaf comes out clean. Cool 20 minutes in pans, then turn out onto wire racks to cool completely.

DEAR PAW'S CORNER:
 My cat "Blaze" has figured out how to lift the lid on the kitchen trash can. He'll hop in there at any opportunity to get at the food scraps. I don't want him eating those, and I'm worried he'll get sick from raw or spoiled food. How can I stop this behavior? - C.J. in Santa Monica, California

DEAR C.J.: I know that's annoying! Cats are opportunists, escape artists and seemingly expert lockpickers that will take every chance to explore something that smells interesting. A trash can filled with food scraps is often irresistible.

Once a cat has figured out where all the good table scraps are, it's going to be very hard to train them out of that particular behavior. You can still try some deterrents. When you're in the kitchen and see Blaze creeping toward the trash can, hiss loudly and say "Nyah!" or "Leave it!" Or, keep a shaker can filled with pennies within reach and shake it at him when he approaches the trash can.

 When you're not in the kitchen, Blaze may still keep trying to get into the trash can. For now, bungee or tape down the lid so that he can't pry it upward with his paws. Then, look for a trash can that has a locking lid, which will be much harder for your cat to lift up. This will be a huge help at night, when you can't rush into the kitchen to try and stop Blaze from his nighttime raids.

Best of luck, and remember to be patient and consistent with deterrent training methods.

Have You Considered?

With all the recent changes in HEALTHCARE
 it's more important than ever to consider an ambulance membership.

In time of emergency, the last thing you should worry about is if your emergency ambulance transportation will be financially covered. Insurance carriers may cover only a portion of your emergency transportation.

Natural Help for Optimum Health

Good Health should be our most important asset.

Why not take charge of your health today.

Most people on my whole health program see all their numbers go down: sugar, cholesterol, blood pressure, and weight. The only thing that increases is your energy, quality of sleep, and general overall health improves.

Why do we constantly return to the refrigerator with the hopes that something new to eat will have materialized?
