Our Daily Bread

Deal, Or No Deal

I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Make me like one of your hired servants. — Luke 15:19
Today's Scripture: Luke 15:11-24

If you're like me, you love a good deal. Not just bargain shopping, but when you manage to cut a great deal for yourself without giving anything up in return. So if you can identify with these kinds of deals, you'll understand the prodigal son's scheme when he decided to return home.

There were three kinds of servants in those days:
day workers who were paid on a day-to-day basis;
hired servants who worked long hours on the estate but lived in town with their independence intact; or bond servants who lived on the estate and gave all of themselves to serving the family.

When the prodigal son hit rock bottom, it's interesting that his planned apology involved asking if he could be like a hired servant. Why not a grateful bond servant? Some commentators suggest that perhaps he was trying to negotiate a deal—a way to get a paycheck and keep his independence as well.

Often we approach God like, "I'll serve You but You can't take away my freedom." It may seem like a good deal at the time, but God's deal is so much better. Just like the boy's father, His arms are ready and willing to receive repentant sinners as part of His family. There could be no better deal and no better way to serve Him! By: Joe Stowell

Reflect & Pray

Lord, take my life and make it wholly Thine;
Fill my poor heart with Thy great love divine.
Take all my will, my passion, self, and pride;
I now surrender, Lord—in me abide. —Orr
True freedom is found in surrender to Christ.

Donna's Day Creative family fun

by Donna Erickson

Welcome New Baby With Wearable Art

Is there soon to be a new baby in the house? Here's an activity for including older siblings in welcoming that newborn. Just sit down together and decorate baby's first one-piece cotton outfits. You'll be dressing the baby with creative pizzazz, and the siblings will be proud of being part of it all.

Here's the basic stuff you'll need for one outfit:

- Prewashed, solid-color or white 100% cotton baby one-piece style outfit with snaps, or you may use a newborn-size cotton T-shirt
- Wax paper or cardboard - Cookie cutters
- Fabric paints in squeeze bottles - Paper plate
- Small foam paintbrushes or sponges clipped to clothespins - Pencil with eraser

Here's the fun:

1. Lay the one-piece outfit or T-shirt on a work surface. Place a piece of cardboard or wax paper between the two layers of fabric to protect the reverse side from any paint that may soak through. Choose a cookie cutter for a stencil. A star, moon, heart, duckling! Anything goes. Place it anywhere on the fabric.
2. Pour a little permanent fabric paint onto a paper plate. Dip in the small foam paintbrush. Holding the cookie cutter firmly, start dab, dab-dabbing inside it, making sure to reach all the edges. You don't have to put equal density of paint all over the shape. A little variation actually adds interest. When you're through, lift the cookie cutter up to see the beautiful design. Now it's time for a few details.
3. Dunk the eraser end of the pencil in a little paint. It can be the same color you used for the cookie-cutter shape or a completely different one. Then stamp it along the neck or sleeves for a fun, whimsical border.
4. Add a few final details with the fabric squeeze bottles. You might want to write "Wee One" on the heart. Or, write the baby's name and date of birth. When baby wears it, take a photo to use for clever birth announcements.
5. Once the paint is dry, remove the cardboard or wax paper, and if the paint bottles say to do so, now is the time to iron on the reverse side to set the color.

Dress the baby in the wearable art, and notice the joy of an older sibling who is feeling just grand. © 2020 Donna Erickson, Distributed by King Features

Recipe Corner

7 quarts plain popped popcorn
2 cups dry roasted peanuts
2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup margarine
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

My Amish Friend's Caramel Corn
By Anita Louis

• Place the popped popcorn into two shallow greased baking pans. You may use roasting pans, jelly roll pans, or disposable roasting pans. Add the peanuts to the popped corn if using. Set aside. Preheat the oven to 250°. Combine the brown sugar, corn syrup, margarine and salt in a saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring enough to blend. Once the mixture begins to boil, boil for 5 minutes while stirring constantly. Remove from the heat, and stir in the baking soda and vanilla. The mixture will be light and foamy. Immediately pour over the popcorn in the pans, and stir to coat. Don't worry too much at this point about getting all of the corn coated. Bake for 1 hour, removing the pans, and giving them each a good stir every 15 minutes. Line the counter top with waxed paper. Dump the corn out onto the waxed paper and separate the pieces. Allow to cool completely, then store in airtight containers or resealable bags.

Outdoor Opportunities By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

Options for Fall Excursions: Lake Wilhelm's Upper Pool and the Butler-Freeport Trail (Part 3 of 4)

Some things aren't as they appear. If you've ever driven on Interstate 79, the primary North-South corridor in Western PA carrying traffic from Pittsburgh to Erie, you've most likely driven over Lake Wilhelm (which is approximately 16-miles north of the I-80 exits off I-79) and possibly didn't even know it. Located in Maurice K. Goddard State Park in neighboring Mercer County, the I-79 bridges traverse a portion of Lake Wilhelm that's only 150-yards wide and looks more like a large stream or small river to a casual observer passing overhead in a vehicle going 70 mph. If you're heading northbound on I-79 and look to your right (to the east) when on the bridge, you can see roughly one mile to the Lake Wilhelm Road bridge. Looking at a map, this could be labelled "the middle pool" of Lake Wilhelm. Not visible from I-79 is the Lake Wilhelm Marina, which is on the east side of Lake Wilhelm Road. From Lake Wilhelm Road and the Marina, it is 5-miles down to the dam near Sandy Lake, PA and this extensive (1,440 acre) lower pool is what most fishermen and boat owners think of when they talk about Lake Wilhelm. However, many kayak and canoe owners are looking to get away from outboard motors (the lake has a 20 hp restriction) and perpetually seek more secluded waters to explore by human propulsion.

Unbeknownst to many people, primarily because you can't see it from the I-79 bridges, there is a 240-acre portion of Lake Wilhelm to the west that is actually not part of Goddard State Park. This upper pool is surrounded by PA State Game Lands 270 and only electric motors and non-powered (paddled) vessels are permitted here. Stretching from just west of the I-79 bridges (there are signs posted "no outboard motors permitted") approximately 1.5-miles to the Milledgeville Road Bridge, this quieter upper pool has a few islands, multiple submerged trees/snags/stumps, and extensive aquatic vegetation to paddle through and around. The real reason you'll want to visit the upper pool though is there are three osprey nests located there (two on nesting platforms and one in a natural snag) and we've seldom paddled this water without seeing several ospreys and a few bald eagles. You can also count on encountering a variety of waterfowl, along with cormorants, kingfishers, swallows, and several species of turtles.

Access to the upper pool can be gained by putting in at the non-powered boat launch on SGL 270. This area is reached by turning off Lake Wilhelm Road (near the Marina entrance) onto West Creek Road, going over top of I-79, past the privately-owned Camp Wilhelm Campground, and then the gravel parking lot is roughly another ¼-mile on the right. Kayaks and canoes can also be put in off Milledgeville Road, where an old road literally ends in the water. Be aware that just northwest of the Milledgeville Road bridge are PA Game Commission signs clearly marked "Propagation Waters" and no boats (powered, electric, or human-propulsion) are permitted to enter. Lake Wilhelm's upper pool is a great location for both experienced and novice paddlers, just be on constant lookout for submersed, barely visible stumps and snags that you may encounter. (They could tip you over.) If you desire to paddle a further distance, you can always put in at the Marina boat launch and traverse Lake Wilhelm's "middle pool" to gain an additional 2.5 to 3-miles in your kayak or canoe when you explore the upper pool. We paddled this nearby waterway several times this Summer and we're eagerly looking forward to heading back there this Fall when the leaves are at peak color and we frequently have Lake Wilhelm's upper pool all to ourselves.

On another subject, do you know what a hex sign is? If you travel to Eastern PA and visit Pennsylvania Dutch Country, you'll see large, decorative round signs on many barns. Smaller versions of this colorful hex signs can frequently be found in gift shops. One version of these circular novelties has a painted outer border with the simple nonsensical word, "TUIT", in the center. If you don't know what this represents, this is "A Round To It", and makes a wonderful gift for perpetual procrastinators who frequently say, "I'll do this or that, once I get around to it". Well, the 21-mile Butler-Freeport Community Trail, another excellent rails-to-trails project in a neighboring county, is something I've know about for several years, but finally got around to walking portions of and riding entirely in 2020. The primarily hard-packed gravel/cinder surface starts on the east side of Butler and roughly parallels PA-356 as it runs southeast past Cabot and Sarver before ending near the mouth of Buffalo Creek, where it drains into the Allegheny River. Next week, I'll share more on this excellent riding/walking option that is just outside Pittsburgh, but seems so much more remote when you're out on the trail. God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I took my Springer Spaniel, "Rog," for a walk in the woods this morning. When we got back, I noticed he was trying to lick a spot behind his shoulder. I found a thin scratch on his skin. I dabbed it with some antibacterial ointment, but that's about it. Will he be OK? - Jessica in Jaffrey, New Hampshire

DEAR JESSICA: As long as the wound seems to be healing, Rog should be fine. Check the area once a day and reapply antibacterial ointment. If it begins to appear puffy and red, or Rog seems very distressed by it, take him to the vet for further evaluation.

Most minor scratches on a dog's skin and paws can be treated at home using the household first-aid kit. You also can build a pet first-aid kit that is easy to access when you walk into the house. In addition to antibacterial ointment (avoid products with hydrocortisone), it should have antiseptic solution, water-based lubricant like KY (not Vaseline), clean towels, an empty squeeze bottle (like a ketchup bottle), tick-removal tweezers, a muzzle, small scissors and a disposable razor to gently remove fur. (Electric clippers are an even safer option.)

To treat a small scratch or cut, fill the squeeze bottle with lukewarm water. Hold your dog securely, placing a muzzle on him to prevent bites if he gets agitated. Trim or shave away hair from the area. Gently clean the wound using the squeeze bottle of water. Pat dry. Dab the antiseptic onto the wound, then apply antibiotic ointment. Cover lightly with a bandage if possible; otherwise, prevent your dog from licking away the ointment for at least 10 minutes. Check and reapply ointment daily as it heals. ©2020 King Features Syndicate

• "I recently inherited a beautiful cedar chest from my grandmother, who is downsizing. To freshen the smell of cedar, we lightly sanded the interior and buffed out the dust with a rag that we put a little cedar oil on. It's totally renewed and ready for all my heirloom quilts!" – T.F. in South Carolina

• "I love to put photos of family on the fridge. I found that the photos were getting ruined from grease and moisture in the air. To get around that I cleaned and laminated them. Afterward, I hot-glued little magnets to the backs, and now I can move them around to accommodate new photos. There are so many, and it gives me pleasure to look at them." – C.R. in Oklahoma.
