The Debt Of Leadership

Today's Scripture: Psalm 86

Save Your servant who trusts in You! —Psalm 86:2

Examine the words of Psalm 86, and you might forget that you are reading the musings of a good leader. King David prayed, "O Lord, hear me; for I am poor and needy" (v.1). Then the king of Israel refers to himself as a "servant" and pleads for mercy. Think of it! This was the man God had chosen to lead His people, pleading for God's help. Wow!

As we think about the role of leaders—whether centuries ago or today—it's vital that we review what leadership means. According to businessman and author Max De Pree, whose leadership moved his company near the top of the Fortune 500: "The first responsibility of a leader is to define reality. The last is to say thank you. In between the two, the leader must become a servant and a debtor. That sums up the progress of an artful leader." Those two words, servant and debtor, describe David's view of himself as he asked God for help during his time of leadership.

All of us who are in a leadership position—whether leading a family, a church, a classroom, or a business—need the humble words of Psalm 86 as our guide. The "poor and needy" (v.1) servant-leader who trusts God is the one who, in the end, can say as David did, "You, Lord, have helped me and comforted me" (v.17). By: Dave Branon

Controlling other people's lives Is not a godly leader's trait; But serving other people's needs Is what the Lord considers great. —Sper
The only leaders qualified to lead are those who have learned to serve.

Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

Allow Me to Recommend a Good Investment: A New PA Fishing License (Part 1 of 2)

"Now, there's money well spent!" When I was child, every once in a while, I would hear one of the adults in my life utter those five words. At the time, I didn't really comprehend what they were saying. These days, I clearly understand the concept and find that thought coming to my mind on a somewhat regular basis. And I'm sure my wife and children would testify I've been known to share those same words with them every now and then. Let me give you an example. Two weeks ago, I shared the story about how my shivering from the cold on the first day of deer season when I was 13 cost me an 8-point buck that ended up going to my dad. Well, my dad has always been a problem-solver and he quickly determined the most likely cause of my involuntary fidgeting was cold feet. So, the next Fall, when I was 14, dad made the assessment my feet were probably done growing at size 12 and he bought me a pair of green Sorel pac boots with felt liners. That was in 1977 and guess what, it's 2021, some 44-years later and I still have and wear those same Sorel pac boots on some of my cold-weather excursions. "Now, there's money well spent" on a quality outdoor product that's proven its worth down through the years.

I wish we could say that about everything we spend our hard-earned dollars on, but we all know that's not the case. I think we all want to get our money's worth when we pay for something. Often, you're not going to know until sometime in the future when the product does what it's supposed to do (and hopefully more) or it possibly outlasts whatever timeframe you thought you would get out of it. Well, when someone can recommend something to me fitting those criteria, I'm willing to listen and I'll most likely take their advice. If you're the same way, then allow me to recommend a good investment of $22.97, which will go a long way in 2021. Not sure what you'll get for that amount of money? For that reasonable price, you can purchase a 2021 PA resident fishing license, which is required for individuals ages 16-64.

Think about it this way. If you go fishing for one day, $23.00 (let's round up the 3-cents) is not a whole lot to spend for an entire day's worth of enjoyable activity. However, if you go 23-times over the course of the year (which is in the ballpark of what I've averaged over the past 5-years), you're talking roughly a mere $1.00/day to fish, when you break it down. I know numerous individuals who are out on the water multiple times per week for 8-months out of the year and their fishing license expense breaks down to significantly less than 50-cents per outing. That's the great thing about a new fishing license purchase, it brings hopes, dreams, and opportunities to do whatever you want with it as many times as you choose to get out on the water, whether from the bank, in a boat, or wading. Besides the memories (which can be priceless), the fresh air (which is healthy), the exercise (which can be minimal, if you prefer, or substantial if you hike in to a remote location); there is always the possibility of fresh fish for dinner, if the waterway's regulations and/or environmental conditions permit it and you choose to take a few fish home, instead of solely practicing catch-and-release. When you consider the cost of fresh fish at the grocery store or at fish markets, like Wholey's, you quickly realize you can recoup your $23.00 fishing license investment very quickly with only a few fish going on your table and when you catch it yourself, you know exactly how fresh the fish is and how it was handled/prepared from the water to your plate.

Now, I'm not the only one who thinks a fishing license is a good investment. Last year, with the COVID-19 pandemic causing widespread impacts on our lives and mandating the implementation of social distancing requirements, fishing license sales soared in PA as people turned to the outdoors as a reprieve from the seemingly endless day-to-day pressures. While I haven't seen the 2020 end-of-year figures yet, data compiled by the PA Fish and Boat Commission (PFBC) through Aug. 2020 (when the overwhelming majority of individuals would have already purchased their PA 2020 fishing license by) revealed that fishing licenses purchased by PA residents were up by 23-percent to 743,348, an increase of 130,897 from the 2019 figures for the same period through August. Across all categories of fishing licenses (both residents and non-residents), there was almost a 19-percent increase in sales, growing 147,445 from the 2019 YTD figures to a substantial 934,238 PA 2020 fishing license sold. The PFBC recently revealed their 2020 license sales were the largest total in 25-years, since it was back in 1996 when they last approached 1-million sales. Next week, we'll continue our discussion on the value of a PA fishing license and why it can be "money well spent" by you. God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2021

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• A wonderful tip came in from G.K. of Minnesota: "To protect floors from being damaged by chairs being pushed around, glue rounds of carpeting beneath the chair legs. They are easily removed for replacing as they wear down."
 • B.W. of Colorado swears by brake cleaner to get rid of bad spots on carpets. "Regular automotive brake cleaner on the spot and a clean rag will remove almost all stains," he says.
 • "When making bread or rolls, warm the flour in the oven or microwave so as not to chill the butter. The dough will rise faster." G.K. in Minnesota.

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

* Charles Dickens believed that sleeping facing north would improve his writing.
* Liquids can boil and freeze at the same time.
* The color of Facebook is blue because Mark Zuckerberg is red-green colorblind.
* Hurricanes release the energy of 10,000 nuclear bombs.
* Can't get your kids to eat their carrots and broccoli? Perhaps they suffer from lachanophobia, otherwise known as the fear of vegetables.

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

- Caffeine, which is found in tea leaves, guarana berries, kola nuts and, of course, coffee beans, acts as a natural pesticide. It overloads the nervous systems of insects that try to eat the plants containing it, paralyzing and even killing them before they can do too much damage.
- Cats are believed to be the only mammals that don't taste sweetness.
- On Earth you need heat to fuse metal, but in space, due to the lack of atmosphere, two pieces of the same kind of metal will fuse together with just a little pressure in a process called cold welding. ©2021 King Features
