JOB DESCRIPTION

RWE is currently seeking a full-time operator for New Castle bulk material packaging and rail transloading operation. Responsibilities include mobile equipment and plant operation, manual labor, and maintenance.

JOB SUMMARY

This position is responsible for raw material loading, operating packaging equipment, unloading and staging product with forklifts, manually stacking materials up to 50 lbs., general mobile equipment and plant maintenance, and general facility clean-up.

ABILITIES REQUIRED

The Laborer/Operator must be available to work on a rotational schedule and be on call while on rotation, including some weekends. Must be able to lift a minimum of 50 lbs., have the ability to use both hands, stand for long periods of time, work in small spaces and be able to interpret a variety of instructions furnished in written, oral, diagram, or schedule form.

Candidates must have a valid Driver's License and be capable of passing a drug test.

Disclaimer: The above statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work being performed by people assigned to this classification. They are not to be construed as an exhaustive list of all responsibilities, duties, and skills required of personnel so classified. All personnel may be required to perform duties outside of their normal responsibilities from time to time, as needed.

Job Type: Full-time Pay: From $14.00 per hour

In medieval Andona, the day before the summer solstice marks the beginning of Audianna's harrowing journey. As the Daemon clans fight for power, she finds herself trapped as a pivotal piece in a deadly game.

Now Here's A Tip by JoAnn Derson

• B.H. in Washington has an interesting tactic to keep ants off her hummingbird feeder, which hangs from a pole. "Cut a small hole out of the bottom of a grocery sack, thread the hole on the pole, slide down about two-thirds of the way, tape the edges to the pole tightly, and let the sack hang down like a bell. You will never have another ant climbing up your feeder pole."

• "I put dryer sheets in any size wastebasket. One can put three or four folded out to stand up and put a bag in the basket for a fresher smell. Change dryer sheets as often as you like." – S.H. in Minnesota

Now Here's A Tip by JoAnn Derson

• To easily get keys on a keychain, use a staple remover to create an opening to slip the keys on. It is very effective and will keep you from getting frustrated.

• A great use for those old knee-high stockings (no runs!): Stuff with a mix of crystalized kitty litter and scent-boosting beads you can find in the laundry aisle. Stuff these in stinky shoes to freshen and deodorize. The litter wicks away moisture from sweaty feet and deodorizes, and the scent boosters last for a good long while. ©2021 King Features

• Historically, most Easter celebrants would have eaten lamb for the occasion, as the holiday has its roots in the Jewish Passover. Most American Easter dinners now feature ham, however, because years ago, hams cured over the winter would have been ready to serve in early spring.

Outdoor Opportunities By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

Tears on My Keyboard: I've Lost My Shadow Who Always Had My Back (Part 2 of 4)

I regularly have hunches on a wide variety of subjects, but I've learned to do an online search on the subject before sharing the idea(s) with anyone because my initial thoughts may or may not be valid. The harsh reality of losing our faithful four-legged family member Colby in late April got me thinking there has to be extensive research on the physical, psychological, and emotional benefits of having, caring for, going through life with, and loving a dog. Just labelling it "being a pet owner" seems too simplistic to me and doesn't capture all the responsibilities and rewards of bringing a dog into your life in such a close bond. Sure enough, I came across dozens of medical studies and scientific journal research papers documenting mutualism in the human being/canine connection, which is defined as a symbiotic relationship in which both species benefit. One article I came across, "Ten Surprising Benefits of Having a Dog You Didn't Know About" by Psychotherapist Amy Morin, succinctly summarized the scientific findings that dogs offer more than just companionship and there are quite a few good reasons to thank the dog(s) in your life. Not offered in any sort of prioritized order, these 10 benefits are: (1) You'll exercise more, (2) You'll feel less stressed, (3) Your social life may improve (strangers are more apt to talk to you, if you have a dog with you), (4) You may detect cancer sooner (a dog's amazing sense of smell at work here), (5) Your kids will be less likely to have allergies, (6) Your heart will be healthier, (7) You're less likely to feel depressed, (8) You can grow old gracefully, (9) Your risk for general illness decreases, and (10) You'll feel safer. There's clearly a lot going on when you make a special canine part of your family.

As an avid outdoorsman, I truly believe a dog is a living and breathing "outdoor opportunity", which you also get to take indoors and spend as much quality time with as you choose to. Having a dog means you need to take it outside several times a day, regardless of the weather, temperature, and light conditions. With our German Shepherd: Colby, taking him outside was always an adventure from the time he was a puppy. Based on his breed and their innate protective/herding instincts, one of his first behaviors whenever he went outdoors was to carefully examine his surroundings (the sights, sounds, and smells) and then since our yard comprises several acres, he would (as we labelled it from my military experience) "check the perimeter" by walking an extensive loop around our house and pole barn, whether it was morning, afternoon, or night. Living in a rural area, this regularly resulted in encounters with a wide variety of wildlife (which I'll elaborate more on next week). From the time he was six-months until he was ten, we would walk our familiar one-mile loop around Pulaski just about every day, and sometimes more than once, in both daylight and darkness. I'm sure many neighbors and several drivers regularly passing through on PA-208 would think "there goes that guy with his German Shepherd again".

We learned early on in our relationship with Colby that having a German Shepherd in the family is like having a strong-willed child. Fortunately, we had a lot of experience with that, since my wife and I, along with our three children, are all strong-willed in our own special and unique ways, so he fit in quite nicely in what quickly became "his pack". Having three Golden Retrievers previously in our family, we soon learned with Colby a German Shepherd can be just as much of a big baby with family members as our Golden Retrievers ever were, possibly even more; but with the rest of the world, he was all business and perpetually on guard. We found it amusing how he would constantly move around our house, so he could watch over as many family members as possible at any one time. Additionally, he would seem depressed after one of our adult children visited and then had to return to their homes, as if he was somehow responsible for losing a member of the herd he was supposed to always shepherd over. Whenever I worked outside, I knew he was always watching my back, to the extent my wife would refer to him as my shadow and I couldn't go anywhere without my shadow following me. Over the years, I received dozens of photos from my wife and children of Colby moping at home because I had just left him to go to work, deer hunting, or do other things where you can't take your dog and they don't understand why that is. Our vehicles were always his vehicles and I simply had the privilege of being his perpetual chauffeur. Looking back and doing some simple math, it's a fact that over almost 11.5 years, Colby and I walked over 5,000 miles together and traveled over 50,000 miles together in our vehicles. Here's hoping your past or present canine connection was or is also that strong and extensive! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2021

Recipe Corner

4 egg whites

1 1/8 cups white sugar

1 teaspoon distilled white vinegar

1 teaspoon vanilla extract

1 tablespoon cornstarch

Whipped Cream

Fresh Fruit, washed and prepared

• Preheat oven to 350°. Beat egg whites and sugar in a large, clean bowl with electric mixer until stiff peaks form. In separate bowl, mix together vinegar, vanilla and cornstarch until smooth. Pour cornstarch mixture into egg white mixture and beat until thick and glossy, 4 minutes. Cover a baking sheet in parchment paper and draw an 8 inch (20 centimeter) circle in the center. Spoon or pipe mixture inside the circle, to within a little less than an inch (2 centimeters) from the edge. Place in preheated oven, reduce temperature to 200°, and bake 1 hour. Turn oven off and leave Pavlova to cool inside. Decorate cooled Pavlova with whipped cream and fruit to serve.

Mother's Influence

Today's Scripture: Proverbs 1:1-9

Do not forsake the law of your mother. Proverbs 1:8

It is my conviction that many a mother will occupy a higher position in God's kingdom than many prominent Christian leaders whom we might expect to find in places of greater honor.

Think of some of the great men of the Bible like Moses, Samuel, and Timothy. Where would they have been had it not been for their praying, Spirit-led mothers? Think of Augustine, John Newton, and the zealous Wesleys; their names may never have lighted the pages of history had it not been for the blessed influence of godly mothers!

The simple prayers from our infant lips were but echoes from our mother's heart. Can we ever forget the soft caresses of those hands of blessing on our heads as we knelt by our beds? Can we fail to remember her night vigils, her seasons of intercession, her well-marked Bible, and her words of admonition? Her actions spoke eloquently of Him who taught us of the greater love of God.

What a tragedy to neglect the counsel of a godly mother! What eternal consequences to reject her God! If you have wandered from her teaching, turn to Christ before it is too late and make sure of meeting her in heaven. "Do not forsake the law of your mother" (Prov. 1:8). By Henry G. Bosch

When Mother prayed, she found sweet rest,
When Mother prayed, her soul was blest;
Her heart and mind on Christ were stayed,
And God was there when Mother prayed! —Anon.

A thousand men may build a city,
but it takes a mother to make a home.

• When hammering a nail, try this save-your-finger trick: Use a clothespin to hold the nail steady, and then use your hammer to drive it in. Hammering into the wall? Push the nail through a strip of cardboard, and then hold the cardboard over the right spot. No more banged up fingers or thumbs!

• Skunk run-in? Try this mix before you buy pricey de-stink shampoos at the pet store. Mix a quart of 3 percent peroxide, a teaspoon or two of dish soap, 1/4 cup of baking soda and quart of room-temp water. Apply to pet, and work deeply into the fur. Massage in for five minutes, and rinse thoroughly.
