Terrarium

A terrarium is a group of plants growing inside an enclosed, clear container. Once watered, these plants create a mini-environment, transpiring moisture through their leaves that condenses on the inside of the container and flows back to the soil. Some plants to consider using are arrow-head vines, begonias, ferns, swedish ivy and pothos. - Brenda Weaver

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne
• Researchers were able to mimic the voice of a 3,000-year-old Egyptian mummy by re-creating much of its vocal tract using medical scanners, 3D printing and an electronic larynx. The mummy had little to say, however, even after all that time, as they produced just a single sound somewhere between the vowels in "bed" and "bad."

In medieval Andona, the day before the summer solstice marks the beginning of Audrianna's harrowing journey. As the Daemon clans fight for power, she finds herself trapped as a pivotal piece in a deadly game. This decades-long challenge between brothers stretches across the boundary between life and death, and pulls Audrianna to the very center of the conflict. Cast into a world she does not fully understand, she struggles to return to the one person who matters. Amidst Daemon deities with unknown goals, Audrianna shoulders the burden of a people who call her cursed. Born to make an impossible choice, will she be able to find hope and end the suffering of all Andona?

1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 1/2 cups buttermilk baking mix
salt and ground black pepper to taste
oil for frying
In a large bowl, combine zucchini, eggs, onion, and garlic. Blend in baking mix, salt and pepper. Heat 1/2 inch of oil in deep-fryer to 375°. Drop batter by spoonfuls into hot oil, and fry until evenly brown and fluffy. Drain on paper towels. Sprinkle with salt before serving.

Zucchini Puffs

1/2 cup chopped fresh basil
salt and pepper to taste

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• “A secret of busy moms: Cook once, eat twice (or three times, if you plan well)! When you prepare favorite recipes that will freeze well, or even just elements of those recipes, make a double or triple batch. Then a few nights of the month, you can just pop something in the oven easily. I cook taco meat once for the month, and we have tacos every week. I just freeze three portions of the meat, and the rest is easy to assemble.” – K.S. in FL

Our Daily Bread

Ruts And Routines

Cause me to hear Your lovingkindness in the morning, for in You do I trust. — Psalm 143:8
Today's Scripture: Daniel 6:1-10

Summer is my favorite season. I love the leisurely days when I can set aside some of my routines without feeling guilty. Doing new things, seeing new places, and allowing myself the time to take “the scenic route” revive my spirit and renew my enthusiasm for life and work.

But summer can also be a dangerous time of breaking good habits. Certain routines are good. They increase our efficiency and ensure that important things get done. After all, we need to have fixed times and places for certain things or the world would be chaotic. Creation is designed to operate on schedule, and, as part of it, so are we. We need food and sleep at regular intervals.

We sometimes hear legitimate warnings about allowing routines to turn into ruts. But the Bible indicates that having set times for certain things is good. David indicated that morning was the right time for him to praise God and ask for His direction (Ps. 5:3; 143:8). And Daniel prayed three times a day, and not even the threat of death made him change his routine (Dan. 6:10).

While enjoying carefree days, we must not become careless about spending time with God. Savoring spiritual sustenance is a routine for all seasons. By: Julie Ackerman Link

You'll go forth a little stronger
With a fresh supply of grace,
If each day you meet the Savior
In a secret, quiet place. —Adams

Those who wait on the Lord shall renew their strength. —Isaiah 40:31

by Lucie Winborne

• A study by psychologists found that when 4- to 6-year-olds pretended to be Batman while doing a boring but important task, it helped them resist distraction and stay more focused. (We're trying this the next time we wash the dishes.)

Outdoor Opportunities By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

It's Time to Purchase PA Antlerless Tags to Hunt Deer and Potentially Help Others (Part 2 of 2)

One phrase which you hear quite frequently is "game changer". When it comes to athletic contests, some rule changes literally are game changers. A well-known example was when the NFL moved the goals posts back ten-yards from the goal line to the end line in 1974. Since hunters pursue a wide variety of furred and feathered game, I guess we could also say alterations the PA Game Commission makes to the rules, regulations, or seasons hunters must abide by afield are literal game changers too!

One of the most significant changes for the PA 2021-22 hunting seasons concerns which WMUs you can now obtain multiple antlerless tags from to reach your maximum of six permissible. (Before the new rule of having to fill doe tags to purchase more than six kicks in.) In the past, hunters were restricted to a maximum of three antlerless tags, not including DMAP tags, from twenty WMUs (other than WMUs 2B, 5C, & 5D); and then any additional antlerless tags from number four, up to as many as a hunter desired to purchase, had to be in the more urban WMUs 2B, 5C, or 5D. Here's an example of how this new rule will be applied. Let's say a PA resident hunter put in for their first WMU 1A (our area) antlerless license when county treasurers started accepting applications on July 12, 2021. Since the PA Hunting & Trapping Digest informs us WMU 1A did not sell out last year until 10/15/2020, our PA resident hunter plans on putting in for their second WMU 1A doe tag on Aug. 2, 2021 during the 1st round of unsold licenses and their third WMU 1A antlerless tag on Aug. 16, 2021 during the second round of unsold licenses. Under the old rules, our PA resident hunter would have been maxed out on WMU 1A antlerless tags at three.

However, under the new antlerless license regulations, when Mon., Sept. 13, 2021 rolls around and over-the-counter sales become available at county treasurer's offices, a hunter can purchase, either in person or by mail, three additional antlerless licenses for WMUs where licenses remain when their applications are received. This means if WMU 1A antlerless licenses are still available come Sept. 13, 2021, then there may be some hunters who purchase a total of six WMU 1A tags for the first time ever. However, one thing to keep in mind is while WMU 1A tags were available up to 10/15 last year, this year's WMU 1A allocation has been decreased 9,000 (from 49,000 down to 40,000), so additional WMU 1A tags may or may not be available come Sept. 13, 2021. We'll have to wait and see how this all plays out this year. This option of purchasing licenses for any WMU where licenses remain come Sep. 13, 2021 may alter some hunters' "gamesmanship" when selecting WMUs in the three earlier rounds (Jul. 12/ Aug. 2/ Aug. 16).

Now, whether you are a hunter or nonhunter, you may be thinking, "Why would anyone want to purchase multiple antlerless tags? Isn't one doe enough for the freezer?" Well, the answer is maybe, maybe not. Every hunter's situation is different, depending upon how many individuals are in the household and how often they eat venison. With an average deer providing 50-lbs. of fresh venison, I know families of six (husband/wife/four small children) where if dad gets seven deer, a buck and six does, roughly 350 lbs. of venison, they will go through all the meat in a year, since that's their primary protein source. I learned a long time ago to never judge anyone else on the quantity of deer they're legally harvesting, because you never know who is depending upon that venison for their next meal.

Please allow me to speak to those hunters out there, men and women, who love to hunt deer, but who know they're not going to consume any or all of it. Maybe you have family members who don't eat venison. Possibly, your children are grown and out-of-the-house. Whatever your circumstances, if you like to hunt deer and there are reasonable odds you'll be successful in harvesting a deer, I want to implore you to purchase one or more additional antlerless tags beyond what you would typically buy. Please allow me to explain. If you're a regular reader, you might remember back on Dec. 11, 2020, the day before the last day of the PA 2020 regular firearms deer season, I did a piece titled, "Consider Helping Others in Need Right Now Through Your Hunting Efforts," which elaborated on the voluntary Hunters Sharing the Harvest (HSH) program in PA; where hunters can donate deer to help feed those in need. Call it fate or God's will, but shortly after I wrote that outdoor column, I received a call from Randy Ferguson, the Incoming HSH Executive Director, asking me to become HSH's new Lawrence County Coordinator, a previously unfilled position. Next week, I'll give details how we, as deer hunters, can potentially help feed others in need through Hunters Sharing the Harvest! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors! ©WBB 2021

• A local folk remedy in Boho, Ireland, involved placing soil from the local church under one's pillow while sleeping to cure infections. The nature of the remedy proved more scientific than divine when, in 2018, a microbiologist found the soil contains a previously unknown strain of streptomyces, which can be used to create antibiotics.

• Most stores list the unit price on the shelf tag. Use it to compare the cost of different sizes and brands of the same item. Just because a package is bigger doesn't necessarily mean it has the best price per unit.

• Remember that, typically, the higher shelves and the lower shelves at the grocery store house the better deals.
