Outdoor Opportunities
*By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier IIThe Privilege of Being Physically Present Out in Penn's Woods

Decisions, decisions, decisions. When you think about it, that's what hunting basically boils down to. Even though I had eagerly prepared for our PA archery deer season opener on Sat., Oct. 2, 2021, I still had numerous decisions to make before I left the house at 5:45 AM that morning. One of the biggest decisions was, which stand would I hunt? If you checked the weather forecast for Sat. morning, Oct. 2, you would have noticed it called for a southeast (SE) breeze. This is an unusual wind direction for our area (since our prevailing winds typically come from the Southwest, West, or Northwest), so I had to choose a stand where I knew the SE wind would be carrying my scent up to the Northwest during my walk in and while I was sitting in my stand. I have stands where a SE wind just won't work because any deer will most likely smell me before they get within bow range, so my choices were narrowed down.

Another major factor in stand selection is food. Not what I'm going to eat, but what the deer prefer to consume. Every year, I hear other hunters talk about the deer they had patterned all Summer, which came out to certain fields just before dusk on a nightly basis; but those same deer seemed to suddenly change their behavior patterns right when archery season opened. Well, if you spent time in the woods in the last week of Sep., you too might have found an abundant white oak acorn crop already dropping in spots this year. White oak acorns are one of the deer's most preferred food choices, since they instinctively know the acorn's high caloric content will help them pack on the bodyfat reserves they'll need to make it through a harsh Winter. I happen to have one tree stand positioned amongst a cluster of white oak trees and since it is viable to hunt with a SE wind, it became my "Go To" destination for opening day this year.

Finally, the weather forecast called for a low of 45-degrees with a windchill of 42-degrees that morning. Knowing I planned to sit completely still in my tree stand for roughly 4-hours and this was just about the coldest temperature we've experienced so far this Fall, I knew a light set of long underwear and an extra layer on my upper body, coupled with a hat, were definitely in order; since our bodies haven't had the opportunity to get acclimatized to cooler weather yet and I had no desire to get cold my first time out.

The silent walk out to my tree stand was invigorating, since it meant the season was finally here. With a minimal waning crescent moon, my red lens headlamp reflected off the fog/mist as it penetrated the darkness during my trek. I quietly climbed up into my ladder stand, hung up my day-pack, put on my additional clothing, attached my security harness, and finally pulled up my crossbow approximately 45-minutes before first legal shooting light that morning at 6:48 AM (which is 30-minutes before sunrise). It is always my goal to sit completely still in the darkness for at least 30-minutes before first shooting light to allow the woods to settle down from my arrival, permit my scent to dissipate some, and enable me to see and listen as the darkness progressively slips away and the woods come into view and come alive.

Spring turkey hunters frequently comment about how the foliage seems to get greener and thicker each time they head to the woods. During archery season in the Fall, the complete opposite is true. On opening day, most of the leaves were still green with only a splash of color, here and there. As the days go by, colors become more vibrant and visibility progressively improves as the leaves fall one-by-one. The heavy dew on the primarily green, thick canopy steadily dripped down, almost like a soft, steady rain. I love how you can slowly make out each individual tree, log, and stump as daylight eventually arrives at the small piece of Penn's Woods you are solely occupying and observing at that moment. Surprisingly, the first sounds of life came from killdeer sounding off overhead and the rapid passing of several wood ducks just above the treetops. However, in my opinion, the best sound is the occasional plummeting of white oak acorns down through the oak leaves and eventually bouncing off the ground, making a distinct noise the deer clearly recognize, like a dinner bell. In the chilly, humid air I could see my breath as the sun rose to my back. I watched numerous, noisy chipmunks darting around on the ground and the treetop escapades of a death-defying fox squirrel as it pursued the white oak acorns at their source. While the buck I hoped for never materialized, a far greater disappointment was the noticeable absence of the pileated woodpeckers announcing the arrival of a new day from the same hole in a big sycamore tree they had occupied for the past 23-years. There is a certain awe that comes with becoming one with the woods for a brief time. I hope you also experience it this Fall! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

- Running a washing machine that isn't full not only wastes energy and water, it also wastes money because you're paying to run more washes. Always fill the machine – but remember not to overload it! This applies to your dishwasher, too.
- "You can use plain alcohol on a paper towel to wipe down your house telephone. I do this a couple of times a week during cold season. Also, purchase a pack of electronics wipes, so everyone can keep his or her cellphone screen clean. Think about it: We constantly touch the screen with our fingers, then stick it right up to our face!" – W.R. in NY

TO THE Infant Jesus of Prague, Pray every hour for 9 hours. O Jesus, who said, "Ask and you shall receive, seek and you shall find, knock and it will be opened to you", through the intercession of Mary, your most holy mother, I knock, I seek, I ask that my prayer be granted. (Request) O Jesus, who said, "all that you ask of the father in my name he will grant you", through the intercession of Mary, Your most holy mother, I humbly and urgently ask Your father in Your name that my prayer be granted. (Request) O Jesus, who said, "heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass", through the intercession of Mary, your most holy mother, I feel confident that my prayer will be granted. DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My new Beagle puppy, "Socks," keeps peeing in the same spot on the carpet every day. I thought he was house-trained when I adopted him from the shelter, and I've been careful to take him out each morning. But his third day here he peed on that spot and he's gone there every day since. What can I do? – Wits' End in Maryland

DEAR WITS' END: This can happen with any dog at just about any age, even if it is well-housebroken. There are a number of reasons why – from health issues to anxiety.

First, get Socks checked out at the vet to rule out any issues, like a urinary tract infection, that might cause a lapse in housetraining. This is something you should do anytime there's a sudden change in a pet's behavior.

Then you'll need to clean the area thoroughly to remove as much of the pee smell as possible – not just for your nose, but to stop Socks from identifying the area so easily as a place to pee. If he's peeing on carpet, you will likely need to replace that section as well as the padding underneath.

Next, reintroduce a stricter routine for a while. That doesn't mean punishing Socks for a housetraining mistake; rather, it means a tighter training routine for both of you. If you know the approximate time that he peed on the carpet, put him on a leash at that time and take him outside. Give him lots of praise when he pees outdoors.

If you're not sure when he pees there, or can't be at home at the time, crating Socks during periods you're away may be helpful. Don't keep him in the crate for more than a couple hours at a time. ©2021 King Features

The Sweetest Harvest

I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit.

John 15:5

Today's Scripture & Insight: Isaiah 5:1-7

When we purchased our home, we inherited an established grapevine. As gardening novices, my family invested considerable time learning how to prune, water, and care for it. When our first harvest came, I popped a grape from the vine into my mouth—only to be disappointed with an unpleasant, sour taste.

The frustration I felt about painstakingly tending a grapevine, only to have a bitter harvest, echoes the tone of Isaiah 5. There we read an allegory of God's relationship to the nation of Israel. God, pictured as a farmer, had cleared the hillside of debris, planted good vines, built a watchtower for protection, and crafted a press to enjoy the results of His harvest (Isaiah 5:1-2). To the farmer's dismay, the vineyard, representing Israel, produced sour-tasting grapes of selfishness, injustice, and oppression (v. 7). Eventually, God reluctantly destroyed the vineyard while saving a remnant of vines that someday would produce a good harvest.

In the gospel of John, Jesus revisits the vineyard illustration, saying, "I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit" (John 15:5). In this parallel imagery, Jesus pictures believers in Him as grapevine branches connected to Him, the main vine. Now, as we remain connected to Jesus through prayerful reliance on His Spirit, we have direct access to the spiritual nourishment that will produce the sweetest fruit of all, love. By: Lisa M. Samra

Reflect & Pray

How does remaining connected to Jesus produce love in your life? What are the other blessings of being connected to Him?

Jesus, thank You for creating good fruit in my life as I remain connected to You.
May Your life flow through me to produce an even greater harvest of love.

1/2 cup soy sauce

1/2 cup ketchup

1/3 cup honey

3 cloves garlic, minced

1 teaspoon dried basil

• Lay chicken thighs into the bottom of a 4-quart slow cooker. Whisk soy sauce, ketchup, honey, garlic, and basil together in a bowl; pour over the chicken. Cook on Low for 6 hours.

Honey-Garlic Slow Cooker Chicken Thighs

By Myrna

4 skinless, boneless chicken breast halves

2 tablespoons butter

1 onion, finely diced

2 (10.75 oz.) cans condensed cream of chicken soup

2 (10 oz.) packages refrigerated biscuit dough, torn into pieces

• Place the chicken, butter, soup, and onion in a slow cooker, and fill with enough water to cover. Cover, and cook for 5 to 6 hours on High. About 30 minutes before serving, place the torn biscuit dough in the slow cooker. Cook until the dough is no longer raw in the center.
