FISHERMAN'S COVE BAR & GRILL
MULTI USE BUILDING

Parcel #1 - This is a great opportunity to purchase a turnkey bar and grill. A famous regional destination for years. It is selling with most equipment, tables, chairs, stools, walk in coolers, Liquor License, intellectual property, large industrial John Deere standby generator (Decor & inventory sold separately). Years of high profitability by Mr. Cusick. If assuming corporate structure, the appropriate Ohio corporate transfer will need to be prepared by Attorney O'Brien, Brookefield, Ohio. This is an approx. 2800+ sq. ft. bar & grill building that was a local hot spot. There is a nice bar area with room for high top tables and a pool table as well as a separate room for quieter dining. This property also has a separate newer custom build out, Approx 40' x 60' wood structure that has its own bar and restrooms for private parties or other outdoor events. The second floor of the main building is set up as an apartment and can be another revenue stream. This is all sitting on a 2.41 acre parcel, Large blacktop parking lot, low taxes & utilities.

Parcel #2 - This parcel contains a multi use warehouse building of approx. 2340 sq. ft. sitting adjacent to parcel #1. The building has electricity, but no plumbing. It is sitting on 2 parcels totaling approximately 3.36 Acres. Ready to use the building.

Terms on Real Estate: Sold As-Is. 10% buyer's premium added to the final sales price to constitute a contract price. The buyer will be required to sign all contracts and put a non-refundable down payment of 10% of the contract price, within 48 hours of the close of the auction. This auction will be online only, and all buyers can go to the website listed above and register. This is a with reserve auction and the final sales price will be subject to seller confirmation. These parcels will not be offered together. Please see the website for a full list of terms and conditions when registering. For more information on this process call Wade at the number below.

Let's Face It, There Are Some Steps You Can Take to See More Deer (Part 2 of 2)

About 15 years ago on our October archery season opener, my youngest daughter asked me to go for a bike ride when I returned from the woods around noon. Without thinking about it, I put my bow in the garage, we grabbed our bikes, and away we went. I had Faith take the lead to set the pace. I couldn't figure out why drivers, both those coming up around us and those coming the other way, kept passing us extremely slowly, as if they were taking a closer look. It wasn't until we got back to the house that I realized I had ridden my bike with my face still entirely camouflaged. I completely forgot and Faith never said a word. No wonder drivers slowed down to look at the bike-riding oddity. When I asked my daughter why she never said anything, her response was simple, "Oh, yeah." That story comes up every hunting season, along with Faith offering her usual advice on my make-up application, "blending, dad, blending".

On another note, are you aware deer are very good at counting to two, but seem to struggle when it comes to distinguishing three or four? Please allow me to explain. Roughly about the time I started hunting at age 12 in 1975, I was active in Boy Scouts and did a lot of hiking and backpacking. I quickly noticed a somewhat unusual trend. Whenever I was out hunting and moving through the woods, I would often see the tails of fleeing deer or frequently not see any deer at all. However, when I was hiking or backpacking, I would often walk up within 20-yards of deer and they would stand there looking at me. When I told more experienced family members and friends about this re-occurring unusual pattern, they kind of laughed it off and said either, "the deer know when they are in season" or "they can read your mind to know your intentions whenever you are out in the woods". Like many of my personal outdoor observations, I filed it away in my memory bank and periodically pondered the "why?" behind it.

Fast forward a little over 10-years to the Fall 1986, when I was a Second Lieutenant attending the Light Leader Course at Fort Benning, GA, the proud home of the Infantry. There, along with all the other E-5s and above in the Infantry Company I supported, we honed the skills we would need as "Light Fighters" in Alaska. One dark night, when we were out rehearsing our "L-shaped" ambush tactics, I'll never forget one of our Infantry instructors (an E-7, who I later learned never hunted a day in his life) making a comment in the darkness. "If you listen closely, you can clearly distinguish the "one-two-one-two" cadence of men walking vs. the more repetitive, random cadence of the many deer and wild pigs moving around here at night." His words immediately got me thinking. When I'm hunting, I'm typically just on my two feet, but when I'm hiking or backpacking, I usually have either a walking stick in one hand or trekking poles in both hands. The additional beats of the walking stick or the trekking poles contacting the ground were disguising my typical "one-two-one-two" definitely human cadence from the deer.

One of my stands permits me to look out over a swath of game lands to the south, while I can also see the old railroad grade about 100-yards to the west that hunters walk in on from the north. There is a small ridge which precludes any deer to my south from seeing the railroad grade and the prevailing wind means the deer aren't catching the scent of approaching hunters. However, over a dozen times, I have watched undisturbed deer suddenly freeze, listen intensely, and then turn and run. Usually within a minute I'll see a hunter walking in on the railroad grade. The deer heard his/her cadence from probably 200-yards away and got out of there long before the hunter ever had the chance to see the deer or even a fleeing tail flag. How many deer has your walking scared off in your hunting career and you just never knew it?

My solution to this dilemma is what I call a "stalking stick". Basically, it's a walking stick I use while hunting, made from a 4-foot piece of an old wooden shovel handle with an attached rope lanyard. The additional beats of it touching the ground when I walk seem to either confuse or not alarm the deer when I'm moving. I'm cautious to make sure it doesn't strike a log or rock, which can produce a distinct thud. I'm left-handed, so I carry my crossbow or firearm one-handed in my left hand and my stalking stick is in my right. I wear a waist pack on my front left hip to periodically rest the buttstock on. With my face camouflaged and my stalking stick, I routinely walk up within 10 to 15-yards of unsuspecting deer, so I regularly practice on the range using my stalking stick as an expedient shooting stick with my right hand on the forearm of the firearm/crossbow. Using a stalking stick may seem like a burden, but I'll take seeing the additional deer at very close range every time! God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

• If you grew up with the Girl Scouts decades ago (as I did), you might be surprised to learn about a new badge they're offering: cybersecurity. Yep, that's right. The national organization worked with a security company to come up with a curriculum, and now Girl Scouts everywhere can earn a badge for learning about cyberattacks, online safety and computer networks.

Game of Thanks

Whatever you do, . . . do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him. Colossians 3:17

Today's Scripture & Insight: Colossians 3:12-17

Every autumn we throw a scrumptious Thanksgiving feast on campus at Cornerstone University. Our students love it! One year a group of students played a game at their table. They challenged each other to name something they were thankful for—in three seconds or less—without repeating what someone else had said. Anyone who hesitated was out of the game.

There are all kinds of things that students might gripe about—tests, deadlines, rules, and a host of other college-type complaints. But these students had chosen to be thankful. And my guess is that they all felt a lot better after the game than they would have if they had chosen to complain.

While there will always be things to complain about, if we look carefully there are always blessings to be thankful for. When Paul describes our newness in Christ,

"thankfulness" is the only characteristic mentioned more than once. In fact it is mentioned three times. "Be thankful," he says in Colossians 3:15. Sing to God "with gratitude in your hearts" (v. 16). And whatever you do, be sure to be "giving thanks to God the Father" (v. 17). Paul's instruction to be thankful is astonishing when we consider that he wrote this letter from prison!

Today, let's make the choice to have an attitude of thankfulness.
By: Joe Stowell

Reflect & Pray
Lord, teach me the liberating joy of being thankful! Help me to find the blessings that are locked up in the things I complain about and to regularly express my gratitude to You and others.

• Use this tip to vacuum seal your meat for the freezer without any special equipment! Add meat pieces to a plastic, zipper-top bag. Fill a large pot several inches deep with water. Seal all but an inch or so of the bag. As you lower the bag into the water (zipper top up) the air will escape through the unsealed portion.
When no air remains,
seal the bag and then remove from the water.

"I Made This" Survival Mix

Everybody loves to munch! This snack is a tasty pick me up made by your children or grandchildren!

1 1/2 cup mini pretzels
1 1/2 cup Quaker Oatmeal Squares
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup M&Ms
1/2 cup mini marshmallows
1/2 cup dry roasted peanuts

Utensils needed:

Large bowl, large spoon, ziptop sandwich bags

• In a large bowl, mix all ingredients together. Spoon mixture into sandwich bags and zip closed. Store in cool place. Grab a bag or two when you go out shopping, to the park, or for an afternoon snack for yourself or to share with a special little one.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• Thanksgiving Tip:
"Let one person be responsible for putting prep dishes, pots and pans in the dishwasher
while another prepares
the bird and side dishes for the table. You will be halfway done with dishes
by the time the meal is over." - M.A. in WA

• Recipe substitution: If you need 1 teaspoon of pumpkin pie spice, use 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon,
1/4 teaspoon ginger,
1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
and 1/8 teaspoon ground cloves.

• "An oldie but a goodie,
and certainly considerate of dear old Mom: In my family, you come to Thanksgiving dinner with your own plastic containers for leftovers. If you don't bring your own, you don't go home with tomorrow's lunch. Mom instituted this rule after the first Thanksgiving when all the kids had moved out. We practically cleaned her out of Tupperware!" - E.Y. in
