Paws Corner

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER:
I don't get it. My bulldog
"Chester" was out in the yard with me on a cool
morning while I raked the
first leaves of fall.

When he came in, he had four ticks around his neck! They were hungry,
but every time he goes
outside now, he has one
or more ticks burrowing
into his fur. I thought
cool weather causes
ticks and fleas to die off.

What's happening? -
Burt G., Manchester, VT
DEAR BURT: Believe
it or not, tick (and flea)
activity can increase in early fall. Temperatures
are still warm enough
for these pests to thrive,
especially under fallen
leaves and in high grass.
And they're always hungry, so they'll latch onto
a warm body as soon as they get the opportunity.
You're doing exactly the right thing to combat
ticks. As soon as Chester comes inside, you're checking his coat for
ticks and removing them
as soon as you see them.
And you're raking the
leaves in the yard regularly so that they don't
build up.

Here's a few more things
you can do that may reduce the number of
ticks in your yard:

- Keep the grass mowed
right up until the first
hard frost.
- Cut back tall grasses
and underbrush on your
property.
- Move woodpiles away
from the house.
- Don't let Chester roll in
the leaf piles, and block
his access to untamed
areas of brush or tall

"Therefore humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time, casting all your care upon Him, for He cares for you. Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil walks about like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour. Resist him, steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same sufferings are experienced by your brotherhood in the world. But may the God of all grace, who called us to His eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after you have suffered a while, perfect, establish, strengthen, and settle you." 1 Peter 5:6-10

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

- The cables of the Golden Gate Bridge contain a whopping 80,000 miles of steel wire.
- The four-penny coffin was one of the first homeless shelters created for the people of central London by the Salvation Army during the late 19th and early 20th centuries. For that amount, they received food and shelter, and could sleep in a coffin-shaped wooden box with a tarp. ©2021 King Features

Staying Inbounds When You're Out Deer Hunting (Part 1 of 2)

Hard to believe Thanksgiving weekend and Black Friday are already here. It's the time of year when everything seems to kick into high gear. There's Christmas preparations, our PA regular firearms deer season opens tomorrow (Nov. 27), and for sports fans, there's a steady stream of football games. Have you noticed how most fans pay little attention to the officials until one of them blows a call and it becomes the focus? Within milliseconds, players and the football come together and an official must immediately decide if the receiver made a catch and came down inbounds or out-of-bounds. Have you ever thought it from the official's perspective? They're trying their best to make the right call at "game speed" and then everything pauses for a video review. There, the play gets slowed down, magnified, and talked about, while being broadcast to millions of viewers and simultaneously shown repeatedly on the stadium's jumbotron. Regardless of the outcome, some fans will be upset and talk about it for days.

You know what I find interesting, typically the fans who spew the most vitriol about bad officiating are ones who definitely don't want any kind of close scrutiny put on their own lives. Let's imagine that during this year's firearms deer season each hunter's actions were recorded, video reviewed, and examined in excruciating detail to decide if they stayed inbounds when they harvested their deer or assisted in someone else's deer harvest. Hunters like to tell stories and after years of being told them or overhearing them at the gun counter, in checkout lines, in restaurants, at church, and in countless other places; I'm convinced at least 10% of PA's annual deer harvest is out-of-bounds and thousands of hunters would have to answer for their actions, if there was video review. Allow me to share some common situations where individuals step out-of-bounds, so hunters can remember what's right and nonhunters can understand who plays by the rules and who doesn't. (I'll include the page out of the 2021-22 PA Hunting & Trapping Digest as a reference, since the PA Game Commission makes/enforces the rules.)

1. Electronic Communication Devices (Page 16) – In the age when most folks have cell phones or small handheld radios (for use where there is no cell service), it's tempting to call/text your family member or friend about deer coming their way, and that by the rules is illegal and unethical. You can use your communication device to ask if your buddy is at their stand or if they want to meet back at the truck for lunch, but the instant you provide any information on the presence or location of live game/wildlife; you've stepped out-of-bounds when it comes to fair chase. Unfortunately, I hear other hunters talking about participating in this illegal practice on a fairly regular basis and it seems to be getting worse.

2. Baiting (Page 16) – While Walmart and other retailers sell deer corn, electronic/gravity feeders, mineral rocks & blocks, and a myriad of food attractants (corn, apple, etc.) since they are legal in other states where those major retailers do business (i.e.: Ohio); those baits are all illegal and unethical to use within 30-days of hunting an area, here in PA. If you bow hunt a spot, any baits had to be removed by Sep. 3; and if you never bow hunted, but only rifle hunt an area, the bait had to be completely removed by Oct. 30. (Which includes removing residue that leached into the soil from minerals getting rained on, by digging up the ground.) This rule does not apply to cultivated food plots. If someone is deer hunting in a location where there is bait out, even if it is private property they own, it is poaching plain-and-simple.

3. Private Lands (Page 19) and Safety Zones (Page 18) – A hunting license does not give you permission to trespass on private property without the landowner's consent, either to hunt or retrieve wounded game. Several times, I've heard hunters talk about "sneaking onto the Back Forty at so-and-so's place" to hunt and that's out-of-bounds. Similarly, Safety Zones exist for a reason, which is 150-yards around any occupied structure without permission of the occupants, when it comes to firearms. They are also "hands off" for wildlife (read the rule for yourself), so sending a hunter through a Safety Zone with or without their firearm to drive out game is a violation, unless you have the structure's occupants' permission.

The late, great coach John Wooden is quoted as saying, "The true test of a man's character is what he does when no one else is watching." Now that you know a little better what our PA deer hunting rules are and some that are commonly violated, you can do a little "Monday morning quarterbacking" when your family, friends, co-workers, or strangers tell hunting stories and you'll have a clear picture on the integrity (or lack thereof) of the person you're dealing with. God Bless, Be Safe, and Great Outdoors!

• Experts say to always crack your egg on a flat surface, rather than using the edge of a counter or bowl. More egg-tastic advice is to crack eggs into a small bowl instead of directly into ingredients. If you have a sneaky "bad egg" in your dozen, it's better to find out before you ruin your baking.

• "If you host a large family holiday gathering and serve a lot of side dishes, try this trick to keep them hot while waiting for other items to finish in the oven. Simply cover the bottom of a clean ice chest with a few trivets or a couple kitchen towels, and set casseroles and oven-cooked meats inside. Most people use a cooler to keep things cold, but the insulation works just as well to keep hot things hot ... at least for a little while." - M.E. in West Virginia

Do as you promised, so that it will be established and that your name will be great forever.
1 Chronicles 17:23-24

Today's Scripture: 1 Chronicles 17:1-4, 16-25

David had drawn up the plans. He designed the furniture. He collected the materials. He made all the arrangements (see 1 Chron. 28:11-19). But the first temple built in Jerusalem is known as Solomon's Temple, not David's.

For God had said, "You are not the one" (1 Chron. 17:4). God had chosen David's son Solomon to build the temple. David's response to this denial was exemplary. He focused on what God would do, instead of what he himself could not do (vv. 16-25). He maintained a thankful spirit. He did everything he could and rallied capable men to assist Solomon in building the temple (see 1 Chron. 22).

Bible commentator J. G. McConville wrote: "Often we may have to accept that the work which we would dearly like to perform in terms of Christian service is not that for which we are best equipped, and not that to which God has in fact called us. It may be, like David's, a preparatory work, leading to something more obviously grand."

David sought God's glory, not his own. He faithfully did all he could for God's temple, laying a solid foundation for the one who would come after him to complete the work. May we, likewise, accept the tasks God has chosen for us to do and serve Him with a thankful heart! Our loving God is doing something "more obviously grand." By: Poh Fang Chia

Reflect & Pray

Father, we want our hopes and dreams and our hearts to align with Yours. Teach us to praise You when we are tempted to doubt Your goodness.

God may conceal the purpose of His ways, but His ways are not without purpose.

Now Here's A Tip by JoAnn Derson

• Attention salad eaters: Got a thick dressing that's high in fat? Rinse lettuce before dressing your salad. Wet or moist lettuce traps less dressing. If your dressing is light, give salad greens an extra spin. Drier lettuce holds on to dressing, making lightly dressed salad more flavorful.

• Instead of using costly brass polish, try a little lemon juice and salt. Another brass polish you probably have right now is ketchup. Apply a thin layer and buff off with a soft rag.

Now Here's A Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• Ray Bradbury wrote the first draft of "Fahrenheit 451" on coin-operated typewriters in the basement of a library at a cost of 10 cents for every 30 minutes. The first draft cost him a total of $9.80.

• Buick is one of the oldest automobile brands in the world, so you might expect that the company's founder did pretty well for himself. Unfortunately for David Dunbar Buick, who incorporated the company in 1903, that wasn't the case. In less than a year, the company was sold. Buick stayed on as a manager and worked on engine development, but only for two more years. When he left his namesake company in 1906, he sold his one remaining share of Buick for $100,000. That was a rather hefty sum at the time, but he lost it all in a series of unsuccessful ventures. At the time of his death in early 1929, he was virtually penniless. ©2021 King Features Synd. Inc.
