IN AN ACCIDENT?

Insist Bryan's Auto Body fixes your car, where quality comes first.

I just ran across French writer Marcel Proust's wonderful passage from "Remembrance of Things Past" while sorting through dusty textbooks. He dipped a madeleine cookie into his tea, and an entire village with its gardens and people surged up in his memory.

Can't we all relate to his involuntary taste and smell recollection? It happens to me this time of year when the subtle aroma of boiling artichokes wafts through my kitchen. I'm reminded of my childhood summers when my mom prepared a favorite vegetable that kept our family lingering around the table.

One by one, we picked off the leaves and dipped them in mayo or melted butter. The sweet, velvety texture of the earthy-tasting meat slid through our teeth. The anticipation was getting to the heart below the choke – the best part!

Artichokes are a kid-friendly food for the prep (I was in charge of trimming off the pointy ends of the leaves with scissors), and it's just plain fun to eat finger food. You can cook artichokes easily in the microwave or boiled on the stove. You can also steam, marinate and finish them on the grill for a delicious appetizer.

First, to prepare the artichokes for cooking, slice off the stems at the base and cut about 1 inch off of the top. Cut off the points of the leaves with scissors.

Microwave: Arrange two prepared artichokes upside down in a microwave-safe, flat baking dish with 1/2 cup of lightly salted water. Cover. Cook on high for about 8 minutes, or until the base is tender enough to pierce with a fork.

Boil: Fill a large pot with 4 quarts of water, 1 tablespoon salt, and juice from 1 lemon (optional). Bring to a boil and drop in one to four prepared artichokes right side up. Boil uncovered until the base tests tender when pierced with a fork, about 30 minutes. Drain upside down on a cooling rack.

Barbecue: Cut and trim several medium-sized artichokes, then cut in half lengthwise down through the stem. This will expose the choke or furry part. With a paring knife, dig out the choke. Put them in a steamer and cook until the bases are fork-tender, about 25 minutes; add more water as needed. Cool. Marinate with equal parts olive oil, balsamic vinegar, and soy sauce – about 1/3 cup of each for four artichokes. (Add grated fresh garlic, salt and pepper, if you wish.) Refrigerate at least 2 hours.

Barbecue with the cut side down about 5 minutes on each side over medium heat until there is a slightly charred look.

Q: My son was in a book club in the late 1950s, early 1960s. They had the first editions of Dr. Seuss books. The books are in good condition because I just read them to him and they were not played with. Are they worth anything?
A: Theodor Seuss Geisel wrote more than 60 children's books under the name Dr. Seuss. Some of his most famous books were written in the 1950s and 60s and continue to be the most popular children's books in the world. Identifying Suess's first edition books is a challenge. The publishers did not explicitly print "First Edition" but printed a copyright date. There are experts that can help identify books that may be valuable first editions. Recent high-priced books include "The Cat in the Hat," "Horton Hears a Who" and "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." They have sold for $300 to $2,400.

Paws Corner

by Sam Mazzotta

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: Here's a weird one. I went away on a business trip for three weeks, leaving my 9-year-old cat "Jenks" with a friend. Since I've returned, Jenks will not leave my side. He clambers onto my lap while I have Zoom meetings; he follows me to and fro around the house; and he insists on sleeping on the bed at night. He also meows loudly if he can't see me. This is a new behavior for him. What's going on? - Claudio G. in Brooklyn

©2024 King Features

DEAR CLAUDIO: Jenks

may have separation anxiety. Even though he never exhibited these behaviors before while you were away, it's possible for a cat to develop this issue with no clear triggers. Monitor his behavior patterns closely for a few days. In addition to meowing loudly when you're out of sight, is he grooming his coat more than usual? Is he doing anything destructive like clawing up a new piece of furniture? Have his eating habits changed - eating too little or gulping his food? These can also be signs of anxiety.

Try the following and note if his behaviors lessen or normalize:
 - Don't make a big production out of leaving the house or coming home. Extra affection may make him more anxious.
 - Leave the TV, radio or speaker on while you're away, playing a program or music.

- Set up a cat perch near the window so he can watch the world.
 - Create a den or nook where he can rest, safe and cozy.

If the behavior doesn't improve, or it worsens, contact the veterinarian. They will recommend an exam to rule out any illnesses. They'll offer advice on additional ways to help calm Jenks, and if necessary, will prescribe medication to reduce his anxiety.

The Garden Bug

Thyme can grow indoors in a pot on a sunny kitchen window, but really does best outside, in sandy or rocky soils, with good drainage and full sun.

It is quite tolerant of drought, and can be a great addition to a rock garden or a dry embankment.

It is a perennial, with numerous woody stems that grow upward. Its stems have very aromatic gray-green leaves that reach their peak just before the plants flower, and are used fresh or dried to season soups, stews, sauces, meat and fish dishes. Its delicate lilac flowers are attractive to bees. - Brenda Weaver and Immunology SpecialistOutdoor Opportunities*By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II*Automated PA Antlerless Deer Licenses 2.0 – Let's Hope It Gets Better This Year!

For decades, PA deer hunters lived with the laborious routine of the "pink envelope lottery", which entailed mailing your antlerless deer license applications to the county treasurer's office of your choice in hopes of getting an antlerless deer license, aka "a doe tag," in the Wildlife Management Unit (WMU) of your choice. Many individuals questioned in today's day and age with advanced computer technology, why couldn't Pennsylvania go to a "point of sale system" where you could either purchase your antlerless licenses online or from a license issuing agent (retailer, county treasurer, Game Commission Office)?

The PGC heard the shouts there must be a better way to do antlerless licenses and last year, 2023, they got rid of the pink envelope mail-in system and implemented an automated "point of sale" system. Now, if you are not a deer hunter, you might not remember where you were or what you were doing on Mon., June 26, 2023, but our hunters clearly remember the inefficiency and massive time wasted as they either waited "in the queue" online for hours or they physically stood in line for hours at a retailer, county courthouse, or Game Commission Office as the system was overwhelmed by tens of thousands of hunters all trying to get their general hunting licenses and first antlerless license at the same time. Some Walmarts around PA had lines snaked throughout the store and out the door as hundreds waited hours to get their chance to buy their licenses. With everyone trying to get into the system online when it became available at exactly 8am, I personally couldn't get in until a few minutes after 8am and my "placeholder" in the queue was above 14,000. It wasn't until almost 3:30pm after watching the system almost grind to a halt and the processing speed go down to only a handful per minute, that the system finally gave me my email notice it was my turn to purchase my general hunting license, any additional licenses I chose (archery, bear, muzzleloader, etc.), and the highly desired antlerless license I wanted. If you are hunter, you too remember what you went through last year and like me, you have no desire to repeat that fiasco again.

Well, the PGC heard the massive complaints about last year's roll-out and they've announced changes for 2024, "Automated PA Antlerless Deer Licenses 2.0," if you will. These changes go into effect later this month, so I'm detailing them here to enable deer hunters to mark their calendars and be prepared.

Mon., June 24, 8am – General hunting licenses go on sale for everyone. However, the 1st round of Resident antlerless licenses open ONLY for WMUs 1B, 2G, and 3A on a first come, first served basis. These three WMUs typically sell out first every year. I deer hunt in Crawford County, so I will be one of those individuals seeking a WMU 1B antlerless license on June 24. If you are seeking a "doe tag" in any other WMU besides 1B, 2G, or 3A, don't waste your time, system time, or the time of those individuals who want those three WMUs by trying to purchase a doe license on June 24, 25, or 26. It won't happen.

Thu., June 27, 8am – All remaining 19 WMUs (everything besides 1B, 2G, and 3A) go on sale in round 1 for Residents only and you are guaranteed to get the WMU of your choice from those 19 between June 27 and July 7. That gives most PA deer hunters 11-days to either go online or to an issuing agent to purchase their initial antlerless license. The PGC's intent is to avoid a massive rush on their system on June 27 by giving hunters that 11-day "guaranteed window." Now, if you are standing in line or waiting on the computer queue for hours on June 27, it's your own fault because you could wait a few days and still purchase the same antlerless license. This includes all of Lawrence County, which is in WMU 1A.

Mon., July 8, 8am – Round 1 opens for Nonresidents on a first come, first served basis for all WMUs which have remaining antlerless licenses. This is when many highly desired WMUs will sell out. If you're a PA resident don't wait, purchase your first antlerless license before July 8 and you'll be good.

Mon., July 22, 8am – Round 2 opens for Residents and Nonresidents on a first come, first served basis for WMUs which have remaining antlerless licenses. This is the first day you can buy a second doe tag.

Mon., August 12, 8am – Round 3 opens for Residents and Nonresidents on a first come, first served basis for WMUs which still have antlerless licenses. This is the first day you can buy a third doe tag.

Read for Relationship

And these things we write to you that your joy may be full. 1 John 1:4 Read: 1 John 1:1-2:6
 What does reading do for you? The National Geographic magazine informs. A mystery intrigues. A Biography inspires. But no reading is more powerful than reading a letter from someone you love.

Much of my courtship with my wife was carried on with the help of the U.S. Postal Service. While in the army, mail call highlighted my days. I recognized her familiar handwriting on the envelope instantly. The letter's salutation, contents, and closing quickened my heart. They were lines between lovers who found meaning even between the lines.

That's how we should read the Bible. Speaking at a Sunday evening service on this theme, Mart De Haan used the phrase, "heart-to-heart, mind-to-mind, will-to-will." He meant that we should look beyond the Bible's familiar words and get to know the heart, mind, and will of its author - God Himself.

In the first century, handwritten copies of New Testament letters were read before an assembly of believers (Col. 4:16). I can imagine how they listened attentively to every word. Whether the subject was divorce, immorality, pride, or salvation, the people sensed that God's heart, mind, and will were being expressed through the words of the human writers (2 Tim. 3:16).

The Bible is God's love letter to you. Read it to develop a loving relationship with Him. - D.J.D.

Read 1 John 1:1-2:6 again. Ponder the words light, darkness, life, sin, cleanse, Advocate, love.

What do they tell you about God? About Christ? How can you apply them to your life today?

The more we read the sacred pages, the better we know the Rock of Ages.

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

• A 67-year-old woman named Dorothy Fletcher had a heart attack on a plane. When the stewardess asked if a doctor was on board, luck was on Dorothy's side: Fifteen people on their way to a cardiology conference stood up! Dorothy survived.

• Wonderful tip from Fi-brenew, a leather, vinyl and plastics refurbishing specialist, on what to do if you get ink on your leather car seats: "DON'T use dish soap or hair spray to remove the marks. The degreasing agents in dish soap can permanently degloss and damage the top coating on the leather surface. Hair spray, another commonly recommended remedy, has alcohol in it and will ruin the surface coating on your leather." Use a special leather-cleaning kit instead, or contact a local professional to fix it for you.

• "To freshen stuffed animals, dampen a cloth with a solution of 1 cup vinegar and 3 cups water. Wipe outside fur thoroughly, being careful not to soak. Secure in a delicates bag or tie inside a pillowcase, then put in a dryer at low heat until completely dry. Adding a fabric softener sheet for the final five minutes is nice, too." - D.W. in Oklahoma

• Recycling notes: Cardboard that's greasy or food-caked is just not recyclable. It's trash. On the plus side, your glass jars don't have to be perfectly clean, nor your cans crushed, in order to take them to the recycling center or drop curbside if your community has a plan in place.

Now Here's A Tip
by JoAnn Derson

• Purchase a large tub of cookie dough, and when you make the first batch, go ahead and portion out the remaining dough by teaspoons onto a cold cookie sheet. Freeze as balls, and then replace them in the container they came from. Refreeze. Now you can take out only as many cookies as you would like to make, and cook them straight from frozen. ©2024 King Features

• Add a single teaspoon of rice to the saltshaker in order to keep too many grains of salt from coming out at a time.

• "Use a bandanna to strain coffee if you've accidentally had a filter bust. It works. I first used this tip when camping, but I have used it at home, too. The coffee goes through it faster than a paper filter, which is fine when it's already brewed, since you lose less heat." - T.R. in Arkansas
