Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

A Much-Needed Day Trip to "The Land of Many Uses" – The Allegheny National Forest

Out of curiosity, I did a Google search. I asked the all-knowing search engine, "How many camps are there in Pennsylvania?" and the AI-generated response

I got back was, "There are roughly 400 church camps, scout camps, YMCA camps, and private campgrounds in PA." That's not really what I wanted to know, so I refined my question to "How many hunting camps, fishing camps, and recreational camps or cabins are there in PA?" This time the reply was, "There are thousands and there is actually no specific number, since the definition of a camp or cabin is not well-defined." Right or wrong, the criteria I've always used in my travels around the Commonwealth to delineate whether a residential structure, no matter how big or small, elaborate or rustic, is either someone's permanent home or their camp/cabin is whether there is a mailbox along the road. If someone is getting mail delivered there, for at least a portion of the year, then it is their home; otherwise it is their "home away from home" on a temporary basis.

What brought on my camp/cabin question for Google was how I spent this past Saturday, May 9. There are times in life when you make plans to be part of a group activity, but when the group activity is cancelled for some reason, you just decide to go ahead and do it on your own. I had made plans to be part of a 4x4 excursion up to the Allegheny National Forest for Sat., May 9. This wasn't an off-road, let's push it until someone gets stuck outing or a rock crawl, but rather a "let's drive the expansive forest roads and see how far we can go by staying off paved roads." My wife had to work all-day Sat., but our son was visiting for Mother's Day weekend, so he and I left the house at 8:30 AM for our adventure in the Allegheny National Forest (ANF). We had the windshield wipers on from the time we left the house. On the cross-country drive from our home to the Mercer exit of Interstate 80, we were blessed to see an immature bald eagle, who was starting to have mottled-white head and tail feathers, feeding on road kill.

The trip across I-80 and up PA-66 to Marienville were uneventful in the rain. We stopped at the Qwik Fill, just before entering the ANF to fill up. I commented to our son that $4.89 per gallon was the most expensive gas I could ever recall putting in a vehicle in my lifetime. Later, we wondered aloud if high gas prices played any part in why we didn't see a single turkey hunter or ATV/UTV out in the ANF all day. The previous time we explored the ANF last year, it was further north, up by Westline. This time we stopped by the Southern ANF Ranger Station (which is surprisingly closed on Saturdays), to gain access to maps and pamphlets available in the entryway. We started our excursion up by Pigeon with an all-dirt road loop heading eastward back Duhring Road and then returning to Marienville via Lamona Road. We passed hundreds of camps/cabins of all sizes, construction types, and a wide assortment of colorful names. We passed the State Game Warden for Forest County when we detoured back a forest road to Buzzard Sump, where we stretched our legs. The ample rain made for some very scenic streams and runs.

After a 20-mile loop east of Marienville, we headed north out of town on Forest Road 128. We stopped by Beaver Meadows to check out the lake and campground, before heading west on FR127 to Kellettsville.

The recent timber harvests, markings for upcoming timber harvests, and recent upgrades around the many oil wells gave credence to the ANF's name, "The Land of Many Uses," where sustainable timber and oil/gas production is balanced with wildlife habitat, watershed protection, and a myriad of outdoor recreational activities. We followed PA-666 for six miles from Kellettsville to Mayburg, before crossing the one lane bridge across Tionesta Creek and ascending the hill on Mullens Road. No point during our travels required 4-wheel drive, but I wouldn't recommend climbing Mullens Road in a sedan. Up on top, we headed east on FR180 and stopped for lunch. After enjoying our PB&Js in a scenic spot, we continued eastward across FR180, then northward on FR 128, before hitting the blacktop at Bluejay Creek Road.

From there it was only 8-miles west on PA-666 to Minister Creek. At that point, the rain finally stopped and the sun peeked through, so we decided to make the climb up to the Minister Creek Overlook. The trail was soggy, the incline was noticeable, but the view from the top was definitely worth it. Over the course of five hours of driving 10 mph on meandering forest roads, we had covered almost 50-miles and saw three gobblers, six deer, and a lot of incredible forest and rushing stream scenery. It's no wonder so many people have elected to have a camp/cabin in that beautiful part of PA. If you're looking for a nearby day-trip to recharge yourself, the ANF is open to explore!

were suspicious. After some tests, Jethro got radiation and then surgery to remove the biggest lumps, and they're monitoring the others. I just wonder if there was any way I could have prevented this from happening. Could I have noticed something sooner? – Gerald V., Wytheville, Virginia

DEAR GERALD: Don't beat yourself up too much. You did all the right things for your dog: regular checkups, prompt treatment and continuing support. I'm very glad to hear that Jethro is on the mend and being monitored.

A cancer diagnosis in a pet is always stressful for the owners. Skin lumps (soft tissue sarcomas) are just one type of cancer. Certain cancers are more prevalent in specific breeds, and no pet is completely free of risk.

Owners often beat themselves up after a diagnosis, wondering if their pet's food, level of exercise or weight contributed to them developing cancer. According to the Animal CANCER Foundation, (acfoundation.org) there are no proven diets that prevent cancer in pets.

However, studies have shown that nutritionally supportive diets can help pets already diagnosed with cancer. Many veterinarians recommend a diet higher in protein and healthy fats and lower in carbohydrates to support overall pet health. Avoid raw diets, as bacteria in raw foods can weaken an already compromised immune system. ©2026 King Features Synd., Inc.

Continue to keep a close eye on Jethro and work with the veterinarian to spot fast-growing lumps on his skin. Focus on giving him a great quality of life with exercise, a healthy diet and lots of love.

Spiritual Royalty

To all who did receive him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God.
 John 1:12
 READ John 1:9-13

When Jay Speights of Rockville, Maryland, took a DNA test, nothing could have prepared him for the results he received. They contained a big surprise—he was a prince of the West African nation of Benin! Soon he boarded a plane and visited the country. When he arrived, the royal family greeted and showered him with a festive homecoming—dancing, singing, banners, and a parade.

Jesus came to earth as God's good news announcement. He went to His own people, the nation of Israel, to give them the good news and to show them the way out of darkness. Many received the message with apathy, rejecting the "true light" (John 1:9) and refusing to accept Him as Messiah (v. 11). But unbelief and apathy weren't universal among the people. Some people humbly and gladly received Christ's invitation, accepted Him as God's eventual sacrifice for sin, and believed in His name. A surprise awaited this faithful remnant. He "gave [them] the right to become children of God" (v. 12)—to be royal children of His through spiritual rebirth.

When we turn from sin and darkness, receive Jesus, and believe in His name, we discover we're children of God, adopted as royalty into His family. May we enjoy the blessings as we live up to the responsibilities of being the King's kids.
 By Marvin Williams

REFLECT and PRAY

How should being a child of God affect you? What will you do this week to live out your status and responsibility as His child?

Father, it's amazing that through Jesus' death You invite me into spiritual royalty. I'm humbled and grateful.

Slow-Cooker Chicken Tortilla Soup Is a Cool Idea on a Hot Day

Mention “slow-cooker meals” during a hot day, and your mind undoubtedly drifts to chilly fall and winter weather eating. Mine, too, until my oldest son, Bjorn, took charge of dinner one night and ladled up bowlfuls of his tasty slow-cooker chicken tortilla soup. Topped with crisp bean sprouts from the Asian market, cilantro from the garden, and a handful of grated cheese and crushed chips, his version of a Tex-Mex/Asian fusion made for healthy family fare!

It gets even better when considering the 3-minute prep time factor. No need to saute the chicken or chop vegetables ahead of time. Simply let your kids open 5 cans of basic ingredients while you unwrap a package of fresh chicken breasts. Dump all the food in the cooker, turn it to low, and the soup’s on in 6-8 hours. It doesn’t get much easier than this!

BJORN’S SLOW-COOKER CHICKEN
TORTILLA SOUP: Makes 6-8 servings
Soup Ingredients:

- 2 14.5-ounce cans stewed tomatoes
- 1 15-ounce can black beans
- 1 4-ounce can diced green chili peppers
- 1 15-ounce can chicken broth
- 2 pounds skinless, boneless chicken breasts (or 1 pound for a less-dense soup)

- Toppings:
- Grated cheddar cheese
  - Cilantro
  - Mung bean sprouts
  - Tortilla chips, crushed

Place all soup ingredients in a slow cooker and stir together lightly. Cover, set slow cooker to low, and cook for 6-8 hours. When ready to serve, remove the cooked chicken and shred into bite-sized pieces with a fork.

Place the shredded chicken back in the slow cooker and stir. Cook for another hour if you wish, or ladle in large soup bowls. Add toppings according to taste. Serve with a green salad and enjoy fresh fruit for dessert.

The caterpillars of fritillary butterflies hatch in autumn, go dormant right away without feeding, and sleep through the winter. They awaken in the spring at the same time as violet plants – their only food – begin to grow.

Fritillaries

It is feared that global warming may disrupt this delicate and important synchronization and cause extinction of fritillary butterflies.

Founded in 1910, ELLWOOD Group began as a producer of high-quality steel and has grown into a trusted maker of crankshafts used around the world.

We build heavy-duty cranks that keep equipment running every day.

We start by melting and refining our own steel, then forge crankshafts to shape using powerful presses. From there, each crank is carefully machined and inspected to meet exact requirements. Our crankshafts are used in tractors, locomotives, pumps, compressors, ships, power generation equipment, and military vehicles like tanks.

For more than 100 years, ELLWOOD has been built on hard work, craftsmanship, and doing the job right—values we continue to pass on to the next generation.

• Kitchen remodels can be expensive, but when your kitchen isn't usable, that's even more of an expense. Plan by setting up an alternate kitchen to save money instead of opting for takeout food. Microwave, toaster oven, coffee pot and a small dorm-style fridge can take care of a lot of your needs in the short term.

Also, if you are nailing into wood, you can drag your nail through some soap (a bar soap is fine) before striking and it does the same thing - it'll keep the wood from splitting. You can even keep a travel size bar of soap in your nail apron just for this." - P.K. in NJ
