Outdoor Opportunities

By COL (Ret.) Grey D. Berrier II

It's the Right Time and Relatively Close,
So You Should Head Up to PA Elk Country

I don't think I'm an outlier if I say we are on the cusp of my favorite season of the year. Fall officially starts on Tues., Sep. 22, 2026 at 8:04 PM (Eastern Time Zone) in the Northern Hemisphere. That is the exact moment of the Autumnal Equinox, when the Sun is directly above the Equator, so day and night are nearly equal in length across the planet. This time of year, there are certain sounds associated with the arrival of Fall you are probably familiar with. On Friday nights, there is the enthusiastic roar of the crowd coming from high school football games. There's also the undeniable whine of leaf blowers at work. Then, there is my favorite Fall sound that's hard to describe, but if you've heard it, you know what I'm talking about. To break it down acoustically, it begins with a deep guttural groan from the chest, rapidly escalates into a high-pitched, incredibly piercing whistle/scream, and finishes with a series of abrupt, sharp coughing grunts, some have described as "chuckling." I apologize for not doing it justice, but the majestic sound of a bull elk bugling is so unique and I believe everyone needs to hear it for themselves.

We are truly blessed to have the PA elk herd within a 2.5-hour drive of Lawrence County. Eastern elk were native to "Penn's Woods" when the first Europeans arrived, but unregulated overhunting and habitat loss lead to the last one being killed in 1867. The newly formed PA Game Commission (PGC) imported and released elk from western states between 1913 and 1926. A true wildlife conservation success story, from those initial 177 introduced western elk, the highly studied and closely managed PA elk herd has grown to approximately 1,500 animals today, spread across six north-central counties (Elk, Cameron, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, and Potter). The "heart" of PA elk country is the Elk Country Visitors Center off Winslow Hill Road in Benezette. Owned and operated by the Keystone Elk Country Alliance (KECA), in cooperation with the PGC, the Visitors Center has hosted almost six million visitors from all 50 states and 47 countries, since it opened in 2010. If you've never been up to PA elk country, I highly recommend that the Visitors Center is the focus of your initial visit. There you will learn indoors all about the elk and other wildlife species that coexist with the elk through informative, hands-on displays, a well-done 4D theatre documentary, periodic conservation education programs, and a well-stocked gift shop.

To get to the Elk Country Visitors Center from our area, only a few routes are required. It's Interstate 80 East to Exit 101 at DuBois, then PA-255 North for 16-miles through Penfield to Weedville, then PA-555 East for 9-miles from Weedville to Benezette. Finally, you'll follow the signs for the final mile from PA-555 through Benezette, up Winslow Hill Road to the road entering the Visitors Center. Only a few miles up PA-255 after exiting I-80, you will see the first of many Elk Crossing signs, so be on the look out for elk, both crossing the road and on the surrounding properties for the final 24-miles of your drive. I've talked to several couples and numerous individuals who have gone up to PA Elk Country and were disappointed that they never saw a single elk. When I talked with them, I quickly diagnosed the most likely reason for their lack of sightings. Our PA elk are wild animals and like white-tailed deer, they are crepuscular, which means they are primarily active during twilight (the time of day just before sunrise and just after sunset.) The individuals who didn't see any elk were there looking for them during the middle of the day, when the elk are primarily resting, lounging, and chewing their cud's back in well-shaded timber.

In Sep. and Oct., the Visitors Center is open from 8 AM to dusk. My wife and I made our first visit of 2026 up there on Thur., Sep. 10. We arrived at 4 PM, toured the Visitors Center for 30-minutes to see what's new, and then drove around for 90-minutes to see if any elk were out along Winslow Hill Road at the public viewing areas at Winslow Hill, Hoover's Farm, and Dennison Run. We were told the elk were coming out to the extensive food plots at the Visitors Center regularly around 7 PM, so we went back to the Visitors Center around 6 PM in order to get a spot along the rope marking the permitted viewing area off the trail. We weren't disappointed as we were treated to almost an hour-long session of elk viewing, photos, and videos as a dominant herd bull with this 23 cow and calf harem took over the field right in front of us. His persistent bugling made our day. Unfortunately, three separate challenging bulls, who were aggressively bugling back, did not arrive before darkness forced our departure. Check out their website: elkcountrysitevisitorscenter.com for details, including the horse drawn wagon rides, and other ways you can make PA's amazing elk herd part of your life!

God Bless, Be Safe,
and Great Outdoors!

The Speed of Joy
I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete.

John 15:11
READ John 15:9-11

Go at the speed of joy. The phrase dropped into my mind as I prayerfully considered the year ahead one morning, and it seemed apt. I had a propensity to overwork, which often sapped my joy. So, following this guidance, I committed to working at an enjoyable pace in the coming year, making space for friends and joyful activities.

This plan worked . . . until March! Then I partnered with a university to oversee the trial of a course I'd been developing. With students to enroll and teaching to deliver, I was soon working long hours to keep up. How could I go at the speed of joy now?

Jesus promises joy to those who believe in Him, telling us it comes through remaining in His love (John 15:9) and prayerfully bringing our needs to Him (16:24). "I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete," he says (15:11). This joy comes as a gift through His Spirit, who we're to keep in step with (Galatians 5:22-25). I found I could only maintain joy during my busy period when I spent time each night in restful, trusting prayer.

Since joy is so important, it makes sense to prioritize it in our schedules. But since life is never completely under our control, I'm glad another source of joy—the Spirit—is available to us. For me, going at the speed of joy now means going at the speed of prayer—making time to receive from the Joy-Giver. By Sheridan Voysey

REFLECT and PRAY

What saps your joy? How will you rest in the Joy-Giver today?

Holy Spirit, please fill me afresh today with Your love, peace, and joy.

Strengthen Your Connections to People Around You

And Hear The Sounds That Matter

Are your hearing aids compatible with the latest Bluetooth technology called Auracast?

Many churches are now equipping their systems to allow audio to go directly into hearing aids. No longer will you struggle to hear or have to sit close to the speaker. If you purchased hearing aids at my practice you more than likely have this feature.

Strange But True

by Lucie Winborne

- Early hairspray formulas often used shellac, a resin secreted by female Kerria lacca bugs.
- Holes in crackers allow steam and gas to escape so the product will remain flat and crisp.
- According to a study, dancers and choreographers reported the highest divorce rates.
- The first pet insurance in America was purchased in 1982 to protect the dog playing the title role in "Lassie."
